Death-Ray Bomb Looms As U.S. A-Testing Goal

Hoffa Handed Sharp Defeat In Cincinnati

99.5 Per Cent Vote Is Cast for Rebels In Teamster Squabble

CINCINNATI (AP) — In the wake of his 99.5 per cent election victory, rebel union leader James T. Luken had this to say about the vote's effect on further rebellion against Teamsters President James R. Hoffa:

"It isn't gonna hurt it."

Members of the Independent Milk and Dairy Drivers Union voted 1,664 to 12 Tuesday to quit the Teamsters and join the AFL-CIO. The secret ballot voting was supervised by the National Labor Relations Board.

"If I had run this election, they would be yelling to high heaven about it," Luken said.

When the Cincinnati Teamsters revolt started Aug. 16, members of Luken's union (then Teamsters Local 98) voted 1,798 to 2 to leave the International. This was a stand-up vote and Teamsters officials charged Luken railroaded it through and that the results would have been different if they had had a chance to explain their position.

Luken and the heads of three other locals who joined him said they revolted against the policies of Hoffa and his aides. The rebel leaders still say the same thing.

Not all of the members of Luken's union have had their NLRB election yet. Tuesday's balloting was for 1,729 workers employed by members of the Greater Cincinnati Milk and Ice Cream Dealers Association.

The local has about 2,200 members, and for the rest of them elections are still pending.

Teamsters Vice President Harold Gibbons said after the election that the International "will continue to organize the workers . . . It doesn't make any change in our long range plans for the Cincinnati area."

Gibbons came here after the re-

Evacuation Plan Shelved By Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government has abandoned, for all practical purposes, the idea of evacuating city dwellers ahead of any oncoming nuclear bombs and missiles.

The Pentagon will not discourage local and state Civil Defense authorities from making evacuation plans if they choose, said a spokesman for the Office of Civil Defense.

But he added, "Evacuation certainly takes second place to fallout shelters in Washington's planning."

The fact now recognized, but never clearly acknowledged previously, is that fleeing into open countryside—even if there was ample warning time—would not protect populations from the major nuclear hazard, radioactive fallout.

One member of Congress, Rep. Robert W. Karstenmeier, D-Wis., has demanded the removal of the blue "Civil Defense Route" signs that mark the highways of his state and others.

The signs are dangerous and misleading, Karstenmeier said in a letter to OCD Director Steuart L. Pittman, because they breed false hopes of escape by flight and "deceive people as to the real danger they would face in nuclear war."

Ex-Office Manager Held For Theft of $8,000

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A 40-year-old Fairborn man was being held for investigation of forgery by Fairborn police in an $8,000 embezzlement case.

Fairborn police said they arrested John Edward Morrill, a former office manager of the Peerless Pattern Co. of Dayton, at the request of Dayton Detective Sgt. G. A. Young.

Young says Morrill forged checks and used false invoices to embezzle $8,000 while he was employed by the company.

'Let's-You-and-Him-Fight' Invite by Nixon Given Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard M. Nixon has put Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., on the spot by inviting them to fight in the primaries for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

Nixon, seeking the California governorship in 1962, has declared himself out of the presidential primaries and has implied that his support will go to the man who proves to be the best vote-getter in the period before the national convention.

Any such support would be vital if Nixon were elected governor of California and resisted a movement which would be sure to spring up then to draft him for a second presidential nomination.

But his "let's you and him fight" invitation to Rockefeller and Goldwater to mix it up in the primaries has some built-in drawbacks for both of his possible rivals for the nomination.

Rockefeller needs to get re-elected next year before he can even start thinking about such primaries. These contests, which President Kennedy demonstrated in 1960 can build a man up for the nomination and knock others down, come at an inconvenient time for a New York governor to be away from his job. He has a legislature on his hands during much of the time when he might need to be beating the bushes in other states for support.

Goldwater's problem is somewhat different. He has to decide whether he wants to run for president — or vice president — or whether he wants another term in the Senate. Goldwater has the feeling that if he ventures into presidential primaries the home folk will conclude he is tired of his Senate job.

While he could wait out the national convention to announce that he was running again for the Senate, he has the idea that it might be too late to get the ball rolling fast enough for re-election. In Arizona, he can't run for both the Senate and a national office as Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson did in Texas.

Dying Man's Car Kills 2 Paraders

ANOKA, Minn. (AP)—The noisy gaiety of costumed children and spectators drowned out warning cries as a car driven by a dying man plowed into rear ranks of a Halloween parade.

"I shouted as loud as I could but nobody could hear against the hubbub," said Joseph Lindberg, a Civil Defense worker helping police. He also made a futile effort to halt the car after he saw its stricken driver slumped across the wheel.

The careening car smashed into a parked car and stopped after leaving a trail of felled paraders and the adults Tuesday afternoon.

Two women died of their injuries.

Rayburn 'Perks Up' Upon Return to Home

BONHAM, Tex. (AP) —House Speaker Sam Rayburn, 79, ravaged by cancer, "perked up" on his return home from a hospital Tuesday.

The Democratic party leader was brought to this northern Texas town by an ambulance from Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas, where exploratory surgery revealed the cancer.

He was taken to the small clinic and hospital operated by his personal physician, Dr. Joe Risser.

U.S. Toughness Toward Soviet Chills Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials said today the present tough line of Soviet policy makes it extremely difficult to work toward constructive negotiations on Berlin and German problems.

While some sudden switch to more peaceful Soviet tactics is not ruled out, the United States and its Western allies are now discussing more urgently possible countermoves and sanctions which may be applied if there is no improvement in the situation.

The Soviet Union's demand on Finland for consultations on defense measures and its related propaganda attacks on other Scandinavian countries are seen here as evidences of increasing belligerency on the part of Soviet leaders.

The State Department Tuesday night denounced the Soviet demand on Finland as a repugnant act designed to cover the Soviet Union's "own aggressive policies" and to obscure the fact that "the Soviet Union is the source of present world tension."

Moscow's call for consultation with Finland under a 1948 treaty was made in a note published Monday by the Soviet news agency Tass.

U.S. officials see the move as one which puts pressure not only on the Soviet Union's small northern neighbor with its long standing policy of cold war neutrality but also on the other Scandinavian countries—neutral Sweden and the North Atlantic treaty allies, Norway and Denmark.

The maneuver is also viewed here as part of the larger strategy of terror which the Soviets are employing, U.S. officials judge, in order to frighten the Western powers to make concessions.

Western diplomats here say that the Soviet pattern in the past has often been to create a high peak of alarm in the world, then follow up with peaceful gestures and calls for negotiation. They say such a maneuver is still considered a possibility.

But it is now considered more probable that Premier Khrushchev will continue to press his case on many fronts in an aggressive manner and seek to force the Western powers into Berlin negotiations on his terms. Some authorities believe he may push the world much closer to the brink of war in coming weeks.

School Levies, Ashville Bond Proposal Top Issue Ballots

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of three articles detailing issues and candidates to be voted upon by Pickaway County voters at the general election Tuesday.

Voters going to polling stations throughout Pickaway County Tuesday will determine the fate of four school district tax levies, one major bond issue and a variety of village and township levy requests and issues.

In Circleville those casting ballots will decide whether or not to approve a 4.0 mill school tax levy designed to meet the rising costs of expanded operation. The sum amounts to 40 cents on each $100 of real estate valuation within the city district. Of the total, 3.4 mills are already in effect and, if approved, would continue for an indefinite period as specified by law.

The added six-tenths mill would be in effect for 10 years. When the levy was originally voted it was a full four mills. Re-evaluation of local property, however, resulted in a decrease of millage to 3.4.

The biggest school operating fund request is up for decision by voters in the Teays Valley Local School District. Voters will be asked to renew a six mill operating levy for a period of five years. This would mean a tax of 60 cents for each $100 of real estate valuation within the district.

* * *

DISTRICT SCHOOL authorities have expressed concern about future operations if the measure should fail. Loss of the revenue would seriously hamper education within the district, they have stated.

Westfall Local School District seeks both a renewal and an increase in a proposal calling for a five year levy of 5.5 mills. Of the amount 4.5 mills would be in the form of a renewal. The added one mill "would be one of the few ways to keep our district out of debt in its operation," Judson Lanman, Westfall executive head, has stated.

Lanman noted funds allocated by the State Education Foundation were decreasing every year. He added the Westfall situation is approaching the critical point and must "get out of the red" with its creditors. He said if the levy fails there is a strong possibility the district will have to borrow funds to meet its payroll requirements.

The Logan Elm Local School District will present to voters a request for a short - term additional tax. The proposal is for a 2.0 mill levy to meet operating expenses over a one year period. George McDowell, county school superintendent, has endorsed the planned as "much needed."

A majority affirmative vote is

197 Guys Stuffed Into Single Room

BROCKPORT, N.Y. (AP — Men at the State University College at Brockport say they have the stuff to be record-breakers.

In the latest collegiate craze-room-stuffing- the undergraduates claimed 197 in a room 15 by 10 by 8 feet Tuesday night.

"We were trying for 200, but three guys chickened out," a stuffer spokesman said.

Even Reds Aid U.S. Check on Red Fallout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Each day U.S. weathermen produce a chart estimating the world-circling path of fallout from the Soviet Union's nuclear explosions. To do it, they get help even from the Russians.

A little band of Soviet weathermen is stationed on bleak Novaya Zemlya, in the general arctic area where the blasts are set off.

Assisting too are weather watchers in Red China, plus many others in nations around the globe and on ships at sea.

Primarily by means of unmanned balloons soaring high into the sky, this far-flung network of meteorological stations learns of wind and weather as high as 100 miles up. By radio, cable and other means, the nations swap the data swiftly.

An electronic computer of the U.S. Weather Bureau digests the data in a twinkling and produces maps showing wind patterns. Thus the Weather Bureau here can get out daily a chart estimating where the cloud from a Soviet nuclear blast is, and where it is heading in its circuit of the northern hemisphere.

The bureau is careful to label this chart an estimate, not a sure thing. Despite all the advances in recent years, weather studies still hold many uncertainties.

U.S. Is Under New Pressure To Call Off Nuclear Tests

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The United States was under mounting pressure in the United Nations today to call off plans for any new nuclear weapons tests as support grew for an appeal to the big powers to agree to a voluntary test moratorium.

The appeal appeared certain of General Assembly approval. But the United States has served notice it may resume test explosions in the atmosphere to counter the Soviet tests. The U.S. delegation announced Tuesday it would vote against the moratorium appeal since it makes no provision for effective controls.

A number of pro-Western states from Latin America and Scandinavia declared their support for the moratorium call sponsored by India and other nonaligned nations. They declared it was up to both sides to stop testing.

Japan aimed a direct appeal at the Americans to call off any test plans. Chief delegate Katsuo Okazaki denounced the Soviet Union for triggering its 50-megaton bomb but declared, "another show of high statesmanship is now demanded of the United States."

"We are aware of another danger, an endless chain of nuclear tests," Okazaki said. "Such a competition would also accelerate the armaments race and threaten the future of mankind."

The United States anticipated several weeks ago that it would be put in a ticklish spot by the Indian-sponsored moratorium demand. U.S. delegate Arthur Dean accused the Russians of timing their tests so they could announce adherence to a moratorium after they finished testing.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan pledged Britain's support of any U.S. testing to maintain the nuclear balance of power between the West and the U.S.S.R. The other members of the North Atlantic Alliance are expected to go along, but it was most unlikely the Western powers could muster enough support to defeat the moratorium appeal.

French Battle Moslems in Algeria Fuss

ALGIERS (AP)—French troops and police battled Moslem rioters across Algeria today, and a government spokesman reported about 30 Moslems had been killed and 60 wounded by noon.

Moslems throughout the North African territory heeded a call from the rebel government in Tunis and took to the streets demanding independence on the seventh anniversary of the start of the bloody Algerian rebellion. The Moslems ignored orders from the French government to stay at home.

The government spokesman gave no report of any European casualties.

He said that seven Moslems were killed in Algiers and a score wounded.

A band of Moslems attacked a French army post at M'Sila, near the Bougie terminus of the Saharan oil pipeline. French fire cut them down, killing 11 Moslems and wounding 15.

The French forces generally did not try to enforce the ban against the demonstrations. Instead they ringed Moslem quarters of Algiers and other cities and tried to keep the mobs inside, fearing if they broke out they would clash with militant French settlers opposing Algerian independence.

Suitor Plinks Rival In Cincinnati Spat

CINCINNATI (AP)—Simultaneous visits by two suitors to a girl friend Tuesday night resulted in the wounding of one and the arrest of the other. Suburban Lincon Heights police said they were holding William Howard Owens for the shooting.

Police said Owens told them he was visiting his girl friend when Henry Martin arrived. Martin pulled a pistol, Owens said, so he also drew a pistol and fired. Martin was wounded in the left side and left elbow.

Martin is 80 years old. Owens is 88.

Wellston Man To Head State Arson Bureau

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Stanley Ridge, 39, of Wellston, became head of the state's arson bureau today. He was named by state Fire Marshal J. Wilson McLaughlin and is one of the youngest men ever to hold the post.

He had been a member of McLaughlin's staff since 1959 and acting chief of the bureau since last May. He heads a staff of eight men whose investigation activities cover the state.

Van Fleet Aide Says General Is Misquoted

WASHINGTON (AP) — An aide contends that Gen. James A. Van Fleet was misquoted Tuesday. And the Army has indicated Van Fleet may say what he wants as long as he isn't acting in his role as special consultant to the Secretary of the Army.

This seemed to be the gist of official response Tuesday to queries about Van Fleet's reported comments on international relations and criticism of Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

The Tampa (Fla.) Tribune reported Tuesday that in a Monday night speech to a waterways resources conference, Van Fleet departed from his prepared text to say:

Stevenson should have been fired because of the failure of the Cuban invasion.

Stevenson sent Van Fleet a telegram requesting the general to correct what he called a "totally false" statement about him. He referred to the statement attributed to Van Fleet that U.S. air cover for the invasion was called off at Stevenson's insistence.

"If there is any doubt about this in your mind I suggest that you check the facts for yourself," said Stevenson.

In Lakeland, Fla., the Ledger quoted Van Fleet's secretary as saying the general's remarks "were made at a question and answer session—a most informal question and answer period. The general says the article was taken out of context and is inaccurate."

New Neutron Weapon Tagged As 'Fantastic'

NEW YORK (AP)—The immediate goal of the United States in any resumption of nuclear tests would be development of a fantastic neutron death-ray bomb, according to published reports.

The New York Daily News quoted an unidentified Washington official as saying: "It's a safe assumption that we will be testing the neutron bomb very soon."

The New York Journal-American reported it had learned the death-ray bomb "is the prime goal in the resumption of nuclear tests by the United States, and not another H-bomb."

The neutron bomb was described as producing death without destruction by blasting out unseen, unfelt neutrons that could penetrate three feet of concrete. It could wipe out the populations of entire cities without major damage to the cities themselves.

Essentially, the difference between neutrons and other types of radiation is that they penetrate man-made structures and kill animal and human life inside without leaving the building or nearby ground saturated with the casualty-producing contamination.

The late Thomas E. Murray, a former Atomic Energy Commission member, told the presidential candidates in an open letter during the last election campaign that such a bomb is possible. He said conceptual designs for such a weapon existed in American laboratories and would have been tested had it not been for the moratorium on nuclear testing.

The Soviet has exploded two more nuclear devices, both much smaller than the massive Soviet blast of Monday.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission announced the explosions were touched off Tuesday at an arctic test site. The first was reckoned at several megatons and the second was "probably below a megaton," the AEC reported.

A megaton represents the energy from one million tons of TNT.

The explosions were the 27th and 28th announced by the AEC since the Soviets resumed testing Sept. 1.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev told the Communist party congress that Monday's big blast exceeded 50 megatons, which he said was more powerful than expected.

In related developments:

1. Uruguay called on the Organization of American States to condemn nuclear tests.

2. The Voice of America announced an all-out attempt will be made Sunday to tell the Russian people about the Soviet tests—and their worldwide effects.

3. A group studying nuclear attack estimated that a 20-megaton bomb exploding in midtown New York City would kill six million of the city's eight million residents.

Carlos A. Clulow, Uruguay's ambassador, said his call for OAS condemnation of nuclear tests was prompted by fallout danger increased by the Soviet tests.

Pointing to a similar United Nations declaration — ignored by Khrushchev—Clulow said "a regional organization, such as the OAS, could well add its voice to show that we, too, in this hemisphere, are concerned about this situation."

The United States, a member of the OAS, has announced four underground atomic tests since the Soviet Union resumed testing. There have been demands from congressional and scientific sources for the United States to test in the atmosphere, too.

7 Ohio Cities Removed From Unemployment List

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seven Ohio cities have been removed from the Labor Department's listing of smaller communities experiencing substantial unemployment.

They are Ashland, Chillicothe, Lancaster, Mansfield, Marietta, Marion, and Springfield. These Ohio cities are among 12 taken from the national list this month, bringing the number of communities down to 206.

Red Parley Ends, Puts OK On Khrush's 20-Year Plan

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party ended its 22nd congress Tuesday night with endorsement of Premier Khrushchev's 20-year plan to transform the Soviet Union into the world's greatest industrial power with the world's highest standard of living.

The resolution approved by the 4,400 wildly applauding delegates rang down the curtain on the eight-day session that also (1) underlined policy differences between Khrushchev and Communist China's leaders, (2) brought Albania near to expulsion from the Soviet bloc, (3) branded Stalin as a mass murderer and took his body out of the hallowed Lenin tomb on Red Square, and (4) completed the disgrace of V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov and Lazar Kaganovich.

Khrushchev, re-elected to head the most powerful Communist party in the world, promised a horn of plenty under communism, which he described as "the most influential political force of our time."

But he warned the delegates in a final address that only by hard work would the Soviet Union fulfill such goals as a production capacity of 250 million tons of steel—twice the present U.S. capacity—and rent-free apartments for every Russian family.

One part of the resolution got prompt action. At the delegates' "request" Stalin's body was removed from Lenin's big granite tomb in Red Square, communism's most hallowed shrine, and his name came off the slab over the door.

Pravda reported the dictator's body had been transferred to the Kremlin wall, where the ashes of most leading Communists are interred. But today his grave could be seen just outside the wall, behind the Lenin tomb, alongside the graves of five other former Communist leaders.

Khrushchev and other speakers at the congress charged that Stalin was responsible for the slaughter of thousands of old Bolsheviks and top army officers in the late 1930s. It was the first time the Soviet people had been told what the Western world had known for years.

With the disclosure to the Russian people of the murder of thousands of party leaders came signs of new trouble in the Communist world.

Khrushchev opened fire on little Albania, denouncing its Communist leaders in his first six-hour speech at the Congress opening Oct. 17. He accused the Albanians of clinging to the Stalinist cult of personality and of trying to revive harsh Stalinist practices in the Soviet Union.

Most delegates applauded, but Chou En-lai, premier of Communist China, sat in stony silence. Later he bluntly told the congress he disapproved of Khrushchev's airing Communist differences to the world.

Chou returned to Peiping before the congress ended. Mao Tze-tung and other Red China leaders contend Khrushchev's policy toward the capitalist world is not tough enough.

School Levies, Ashville Bond Proposal Top Issue Ballots

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of three articles detailing issues and candidates to be voted upon by Pickaway County voters at the general election Tuesday.

Voters going to polling stations throughout Pickaway County Tuesday will determine the fate of four school district tax levies, one major bond issue and a variety of village and township levy requests and issues.

In Circleville those casting ballots will decide whether or not to approve a 4.0 mill school tax levy designed to meet the rising costs of expanded operation. The sum amounts to 40 cents on each $100 of real estate valuation within the city district. Of the total, 3.4 mills are already in effect and, if approved, would continue for an indefinite period as specified by law.

The added six-tenths mill would be in effect for 10 years. When the levy was originally voted it was a full four mills. Re-evaluation of local property, however, resulted in a decrease of millage to 3.4.

The biggest school operating fund request is up for decision by voters in the Teays Valley Local School District. Voters will be asked to renew a six mill operating levy for a period of five years. This would mean a tax of 60 cents for each $100 of real estate valuation within the district.

* * *

DISTRICT SCHOOL authorities have expressed concern about future operations if the measure should fail. Loss of the revenue would seriously hamper education within the district, they have stated.

Westfall Local School District seeks both a renewal and an increase in a proposal calling for a five year levy of 5.5 mills. Of the amount 4.5 mills would be in the form of a renewal. The added one mill "would be one of the few ways to keep our district out of debt in its operation," Judson Lanman, Westfall executive head, has stated.

Lanman noted funds allocated by the State Education Foundation were decreasing every year. He added the Westfall situation is approaching the critical point and must "get out of the red" with its creditors. He said if the levy fails there is a strong possibility the district will have to borrow funds to meet its payroll requirements.

The Logan Elm Local School District will present to voters a request for a short - term additional tax. The proposal is for a 2.0 mill levy to meet operating expenses over a one year period. George McDowell, county school superintendent, has endorsed the planned as "much needed."

197 Guys Stuffed Into Single Room

BROCKPORT, N.Y. (AP — Men at the State University College at Brockport say they have the stuff to be record-breakers.

In the latest collegiate craze-room-stuffing- the undergraduates claimed 197 in a room 15 by 10 by 8 feet Tuesday night.

"We were trying for 200, but three guys chickened out," a stuffer spokesman said.

Even Reds Aid U.S. Check on Red Fallout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Each day U.S. weathermen produce a chart estimating the world-circling path of fallout from the Soviet Union's nuclear explosions. To do it, they get help even from the Russians.

A little band of Soviet weathermen is stationed on bleak Novaya Zemlya, in the general arctic area where the blasts are set off.

Assisting too are weather watchers in Red China, plus many others in nations around the globe and on ships at sea.

Primarily by means of unmanned balloons soaring high into the sky, this far-flung network of meteorological stations learns of wind and weather as high as 100 miles up. By radio, cable and other means, the nations swap the data swiftly.

An electronic computer of the U.S. Weather Bureau digests the data in a twinkling and produces maps showing wind patterns. Thus the Weather Bureau here can get out daily a chart estimating where the cloud from a Soviet nuclear blast is, and where it is heading in its circuit of the northern hemisphere.

The bureau is careful to label this chart an estimate, not a sure thing. Despite all the advances in recent years, weather studies still hold many uncertainties.

U.S. Is Under New Pressure To Call Off Nuclear Tests

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The United States was under mounting pressure in the United Nations today to call off plans for any new nuclear weapons tests as support grew for an appeal to the big powers to agree to a voluntary test moratorium.

The appeal appeared certain of General Assembly approval. But the United States has served notice it may resume test explosions in the atmosphere to counter the Soviet tests. The U.S. delegation announced Tuesday it would vote against the moratorium appeal since it makes no provision for effective controls.

A number of pro-Western states from Latin America and Scandinavia declared their support for the moratorium call sponsored by India and other nonaligned nations. They declared it was up to both sides to stop testing.

Japan aimed a direct appeal at the Americans to call off any test plans. Chief delegate Katsuo Okazaki denounced the Soviet Union for triggering its 50-megaton bomb but declared, "another show of high statesmanship is now demanded of the United States."

"We are aware of another danger, an endless chain of nuclear tests," Okazaki said. "Such a competition would also accelerate the armaments race and threaten the future of mankind."

The United States anticipated several weeks ago that it would be put in a ticklish spot by the Indian-sponsored moratorium demand. U.S. delegate Arthur Dean accused the Russians of timing their tests so they could announce adherence to a moratorium after they finished testing.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan pledged Britain's support of any U.S. testing to maintain the nuclear balance of power between the West and the U.S.S.R. The other members of the North Atlantic Alliance are expected to go along, but it was most unlikely the Western powers could muster enough support to defeat the moratorium appeal.

French Battle Moslems in Algeria Fuss

ALGIERS (AP)—French troops and police battled Moslem rioters across Algeria today, and a government spokesman reported about 30 Moslems had been killed and 60 wounded by noon.

Moslems throughout the North African territory heeded a call from the rebel government in Tunis and took to the streets demanding independence on the seventh anniversary of the start of the bloody Algerian rebellion. The Moslems ignored orders from the French government to stay at home.

The government spokesman gave no report of any European casualties.

He said that seven Moslems were killed in Algiers and a score wounded.

A band of Moslems attacked a French army post at M'Sila, near the Bougie terminus of the Saharan oil pipeline. French fire cut them down, killing 11 Moslems and wounding 15.

The French forces generally did not try to enforce the ban against the demonstrations. Instead they ringed Moslem quarters of Algiers and other cities and tried to keep the mobs inside, fearing if they broke out they would clash with militant French settlers opposing Algerian independence.

Suitor Plinks Rival In Cincinnati Spat

CINCINNATI (AP)—Simultaneous visits by two suitors to a girl friend Tuesday night resulted in the wounding of one and the arrest of the other. Suburban Lincon Heights police said they were holding William Howard Owens for the shooting.

Police said Owens told them he was visiting his girl friend when Henry Martin arrived. Martin pulled a pistol, Owens said, so he also drew a pistol and fired. Martin was wounded in the left side and left elbow.

Martin is 80 years old. Owens is 88.

Wellston Man To Head State Arson Bureau

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Stanley Ridge, 39, of Wellston, became head of the state's arson bureau today. He was named by state Fire Marshal J. Wilson McLaughlin and is one of the youngest men ever to hold the post.

He had been a member of McLaughlin's staff since 1959 and acting chief of the bureau since last May. He heads a staff of eight men whose investigation activities cover the state.

Van Fleet Aide Says General Is Misquoted

WASHINGTON (AP) — An aide contends that Gen. James A. Van Fleet was misquoted Tuesday. And the Army has indicated Van Fleet may say what he wants as long as he isn't acting in his role as special consultant to the Secretary of the Army.

This seemed to be the gist of official response Tuesday to queries about Van Fleet's reported comments on international relations and criticism of Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

The Tampa (Fla.) Tribune reported Tuesday that in a Monday night speech to a waterways resources conference, Van Fleet departed from his prepared text to say:

Stevenson should have been fired because of the failure of the Cuban invasion.

Stevenson sent Van Fleet a telegram requesting the general to correct what he called a "totally false" statement about him. He referred to the statement attributed to Van Fleet that U.S. air cover for the invasion was called off at Stevenson's insistence.

"If there is any doubt about this in your mind I suggest that you check the facts for yourself," said Stevenson.

In Lakeland, Fla., the Ledger quoted Van Fleet's secretary as saying the general's remarks "were made at a question and answer session—a most informal question and answer period. The general says the article was taken out of context and is inaccurate."

New Neutron Weapon Tagged As 'Fantastic'

NEW YORK (AP)—The immediate goal of the United States in any resumption of nuclear tests would be development of a fantastic neutron death-ray bomb, according to published reports.

The New York Daily News quoted an unidentified Washington official as saying: "It's a safe assumption that we will be testing the neutron bomb very soon."

The New York Journal-American reported it had learned the death-ray bomb "is the prime goal in the resumption of nuclear tests by the United States, and not another H-bomb."

The neutron bomb was described as producing death without destruction by blasting out unseen, unfelt neutrons that could penetrate three feet of concrete. It could wipe out the populations of entire cities without major damage to the cities themselves.

Essentially, the difference between neutrons and other types of radiation is that they penetrate man-made structures and kill animal and human life inside without leaving the building or nearby ground saturated with the casualty-producing contamination.

The late Thomas E. Murray, a former Atomic Energy Commission member, told the presidential candidates in an open letter during the last election campaign that such a bomb is possible. He said conceptual designs for such a weapon existed in American laboratories and would have been tested had it not been for the moratorium on nuclear testing.

The Soviet has exploded two more nuclear devices, both much smaller than the massive Soviet blast of Monday.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission announced the explosions were touched off Tuesday at an arctic test site. The first was reckoned at several megatons and the second was "probably below a megaton," the AEC reported.

A megaton represents the energy from one million tons of TNT.

The explosions were the 27th and 28th announced by the AEC since the Soviets resumed testing Sept. 1.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev told the Communist party congress that Monday's big blast exceeded 50 megatons, which he said was more powerful than expected.

In related developments:

1. Uruguay called on the Organization of American States to condemn nuclear tests.

2. The Voice of America announced an all-out attempt will be made Sunday to tell the Russian people about the Soviet tests—and their worldwide effects.

3. A group studying nuclear attack estimated that a 20-megaton bomb exploding in midtown New York City would kill six million of the city's eight million residents.

Carlos A. Clulow, Uruguay's ambassador, said his call for OAS condemnation of nuclear tests was prompted by fallout danger increased by the Soviet tests.

Pointing to a similar United Nations declaration — ignored by Khrushchev—Clulow said "a regional organization, such as the OAS, could well add its voice to show that we, too, in this hemisphere, are concerned about this situation."

The United States, a member of the OAS, has announced four underground atomic tests since the Soviet Union resumed testing. There have been demands from congressional and scientific sources for the United States to test in the atmosphere, too.

7 Ohio Cities Removed From Unemployment List

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seven Ohio cities have been removed from the Labor Department's listing of smaller communities experiencing substantial unemployment.

They are Ashland, Chillicothe, Lancaster, Mansfield, Marietta, Marion, and Springfield. These Ohio cities are among 12 taken from the national list this month, bringing the number of communities down to 206.

Red Parley Ends, Puts OK On Khrush's 20-Year Plan

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party ended its 22nd congress Tuesday night with endorsement of Premier Khrushchev's 20-year plan to transform the Soviet Union into the world's greatest industrial power with the world's highest standard of living.

The resolution approved by the 4,400 wildly applauding delegates rang down the curtain on the eight-day session that also (1) underlined policy differences between Khrushchev and Communist China's leaders, (2) brought Albania near to expulsion from the Soviet bloc, (3) branded Stalin as a mass murderer and took his body out of the hallowed Lenin tomb on Red Square, and (4) completed the disgrace of V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov and Lazar Kaganovich.

Khrushchev, re-elected to head the most powerful Communist party in the world, promised a horn of plenty under communism, which he described as "the most influential political force of our time."

But he warned the delegates in a final address that only by hard work would the Soviet Union fulfill such goals as a production capacity of 250 million tons of steel—twice the present U.S. capacity—and rent-free apartments for every Russian family.

One part of the resolution got prompt action. At the delegates' "request" Stalin's body was removed from Lenin's big granite tomb in Red Square, communism's most hallowed shrine, and his name came off the slab over the door.

Pravda reported the dictator's body had been transferred to the Kremlin wall, where the ashes of most leading Communists are interred. But today his grave could be seen just outside the wall, behind the Lenin tomb, alongside the graves of five other former Communist leaders.

Khrushchev and other speakers at the congress charged that Stalin was responsible for the slaughter of thousands of old Bolsheviks and top army officers in the late 1930s. It was the first time the Soviet people had been told what the Western world had known for years.

With the disclosure to the Russian people of the murder of thousands of party leaders came signs of new trouble in the Communist world.

Khrushchev opened fire on little Albania, denouncing its Communist leaders in his first six-hour speech at the Congress opening Oct. 17. He accused the Albanians of clinging to the Stalinist cult of personality and of trying to revive harsh Stalinist practices in the Soviet Union.

Most delegates applauded, but Chou En-lai, premier of Communist China, sat in stony silence. Later he bluntly told the congress he disapproved of Khrushchev's airing Communist differences to the world.

Chou returned to Peiping before the congress ended. Mao Tze-tung and other Red China leaders contend Khrushchev's policy toward the capitalist world is not tough enough.

necessary for passage of all the school levies.

In Ashville the need for better sewage handling goes before the public after extensive debate. If approved by 55 per cent of those voting, bonds would be issued in the amount of $120,000 for "Paying part of the cost of constructing a sewage treatment plant and improving and extending the sanitary sewerage collection system."

THE LEVY of taxes to be made outside the 10 mill limitation has been estimated by County Auditor Marvine Rhodes at 2.5 mills for each dollar of property valuation.

This would amount to 25 cents on each $100 of valuation over a maximum 25-year period. Funds from the tax would be used to pay both principal and interest on the bonds. The issue has the backing of the village government plus several prominent Ashville residents.

Commercial Point citizens will have a proposed additional five mill levy on their ballots to meet current expenses of the village government. The levy, which needs a simple majority for passage, would place a 50-cent tax on each $100 of property valuation for a five year period.

New Holland will have on the ballot a proposed one mill renewal for five years to operate and maintain the village cemetery.

A two mill renewal for three years to provide funds for general road work within Washington Twp. will be voted upon by township residents.

In what is classed as a special election by petition, Williamsport voters are to determine whether or not the sale of beer by holders of C and D type permits from the state Department of Liquor Control will be permitted within the community. A majority is necessary to pass the measure approving sales.

ALSO confronting voters in all sections of the county will be a lengthy ballot detailing the four state constitutional amendments being considered by all Ohio voters this election.

The four deal with filling vacancies in the state General Assembly, changing militia classifications, defining the continuity of state and local governmental operations and the methods of making appointments for various offices.

NEW YORK (AP) — Abraham Ribicoff, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, says the U.S. Public Health Service is measuring radioactive fallout in foods and in the air at more than 80 sampling stations across the nation.

Speaking here Monday Ribicoff said:

"The major problem is, of course, how this (fallout) may affect our health and the health of our children and grandchildren.

DiSalle Plans Briefing on Ohio Finances

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he wants to present leaders of the legislature an up-to-date picture of state revenues and expenditures.

He said Tuesday he would ask the legislative leaders to meet with him before the Nov. 14 financial session of the General Assembly scheduled because of his veto of second-year appropriations he termed inadequate to run the state.

The governor said revenues will be down because of tax exemptions granted by the legislature.

Leaders of the Republican-dominated legislature have not contacted him or Finance Director James H. Maloon for any figures, DiSalle said.

Indications are the legislature probably will act on a new appropriations bill to run the state for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1962, instead of trying to override the Democratic executive's budget veto.

Fallout Protection Booklet Is Readied

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon hopes to begin mailing to every household in November a 106-page booklet of advice and instruction on family fallout protection.

The booklet will suggest methods of improvising home shelters, for $150 or less, and offer suggestions for apartment house shelters and cooperative neighborhood projects, a spokesman said.

A spokesman for the Office of Civil Defense said today most of the 60 million illustrated booklets probably won't be delivered until December or January, however, because of the massive printing and distribution job.

"The Teamsters are actually fighting harder on the small units," Luken says. "They have been able to put on a man for a man in those—a full-time business agent on each driver."

None of the small-unit elections have been held so far.

The three locals who joined Luken's revolt—Taxi Drivers Local 954, Soft Drink Drivers Local 152 and Funeral and Livery Chauffeurs Local 793 have had no elections yet either.

Luken, who was assured by AFL-CIO officials he could get a charter after winning the NLRB election, says he will go to Washington to pick it up "as soon as I am physically able—possibly Thursday."

The AFL-CIO and its regional director here, William Kircher, supported the revolt from the beginning.

A number of lawsuits—Teamsters attempts to tie up union funds and to keep employers from turning dues money over to the rebels — are still pending. But Luken has had luck in the courts. When the Teamsters tried to tie up the dairy drivers' funds, the court would not uphold the rebels all the way but allowed them "normal operating expenses."

Since the success of the anti-Hoffa revolt here, Teamsters at Columbus, 100 miles away, have also become restive. On Oct. 11, dissatisfied members of Local 413 formed a new group that applied for AFL-CIO recognition and reportedly petitioned for a NLRB election.

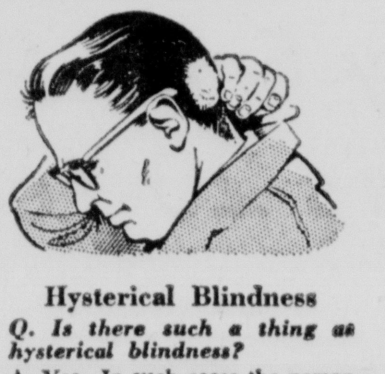
Treatment for Patchy Baldness

Q. My son developed a bald spot on the back of his head. At first it was about the size of a dime but is enlarging. Is there any treatment?

A. This might be a local infection. If not it may be what doctors refer to as alopecia areata, a condition which often responds to local injection of drugs called "steroids." Regrowth of hair usually occurs within three to four weeks. However, such treatment does not result in a permanent "cure" and the hair may again be lost within six to nine months. Retreatment will usually bring out more hair. Consult your family physician or a skin specialist for a complete evaluation of the problem.



Danger Signs

Q. For 2 years I have had a sore on the inside of my nose that hasn't healed. Why?

A. We don't know why but we do know what advice to give—see your doctor without further delay. One danger sign of cancer is "a sore that does not heal." Note: We will be glad to send a cancer booklet free to interested readers. Direct your request to Science Editors, P. O. Box 1174, Louisville, Kentucky.

Hysterical Blindness

Q. Is there such a thing as hysterical blindness?

A. Yes. In such cases the person has normal eyes, or at least the ability to see, but complains of total blindness. Unlike persons who are totally blind because of some organic lesion, the hysterically blind are able to avoid large objects in walking, handle eating utensils, etc. without difficulty. This indicates that they "see" to some extent. One might say that the hysterically blind person is blind because he is consciously unaware of seeing. With proper treatment, such patients often regain their sight.

necessary for passage of all the school levies.

In Ashville the need for better sewage handling goes before the public after extensive debate. If approved by 55 per cent of those voting, bonds would be issued in the amount of $120,000 for "Paying part of the cost of constructing a sewage treatment plant and improving and extending the sanitary sewerage collection system."

* * *

THE LEVY of taxes to be made outside the 10 mill limitation has been estimated by County Auditor Marvine Rhodes at 2.5 mills for each dollar of property valuation.

This would amount to 25 cents on each $100 of valuation over a maximum 25-year period. Funds from the tax would be used to pay both principal and interest on the bonds. The issue has the backing of the village government plus several prominent Ashville residents.

Commercial Point citizens will have a proposed additional five mill levy on their ballots to meet current expenses of the village government. The levy, which needs a simple majority for passage, would place a 50-cent tax on each $100 of property valuation for a five year period.

New Holland will have on the ballot a proposed one mill renewal for five years to operate and maintain the village cemetery.

A two mill renewal for three years to provide funds for general road work within Washington Twp. will be voted upon by township residents.

In what is classed as a special election by petition, Williamsport voters are to determine whether or not the sale of beer by holders of C and D type permits from the state Department of Liquor Control will be permitted within the community. A majority is necessary to pass the measure approving sales.

* * *

ALSO confronting voters in all sections of the county will be a lengthy ballot detailing the four state constitutional amendments being considered by all Ohio voters this election.

The four deal with filling vacancies in the state General Assembly, changing militia classificatons, defining the continuity of state and local governmental operations and the methods of making appointments for various offices.

U.S. Health Service Measuring Fallout

NEW YORK (AP) — Abraham Ribicoff, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, says the U.S. Public Health Service is measuring radioactive fallout in foods and in the air at more than 80 sampling stations across the nation.

Speaking here Monday Ribicoff said:

"The major problem is, of course, how this (fallout) may affect our health and the health of our children and grandchildren.

"To help answer this question, the service has set up a system of sampling and measuring the air we breathe, the food we eat, and the water and the milk we drink."

Members of the county Republican Central Committee from Circleville will attend the session to advise the group on campaign tactics and plans for election night Tuesday.

DiSalle Plans Briefing on Ohio Finances

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he wants to present leaders of the legislature an up-to-date picture of state revenues and expenditures.

He said Tuesday he would ask the legislative leaders to meet with him before the Nov. 14 financial session of the General Assembly scheduled because of his veto of second-year appropriations he termed inadequate to run the state.

The governor said revenues will be down because of tax exemptions granted by the legislature.

Leaders of the Republican-dominated legislature have not contacted him or Finance Director James H. Maloon for any figures, DiSalle said.

Indications are the legislature probably will act on a new appropriations bill to run the state for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1962, instead of trying to override the Democratic executive's budget veto.

Fallout Protection Booklet Is Readied

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon hopes to begin mailing to every household in November a 106-page booklet of advice and instruction on family fallout protection.

The booklet will suggest methods of improvising home shelters, for $150 or less, and offer suggestions for apartment house shelters and cooperative neighborhood projects, a spokesman said.

A spokesman for the Office of Civil Defense said today most of the 60 million illustrated booklets probably won't be delivered until December or January, however, because of the massive printing and distribution job.

American Big-Heartedness

In a survey of national philanthropy, the University of Michigan Research Center finds Americans give more than $17 billion annually to churches, charity and the needy. That is called a conservative estimate, excluding small contributions.

The average American family contributes $300 a year. Charity giving is closely related to family income. Broken down, the amounts are more than $6 billion to churches, more than $7 billion to needy individuals and more than $2 billion to charity. Aid to relatives living in the same household is not included. That is estimated to be in excess of $4.5 billion.

This is an excellent showing for a nation so thoroughly committed to government subsidies, grants, doles, pensions and other forms of public support. The American people have always had a high awareness of individual obligation to contribute to institutional support and to needy individuals.

That this is not fading away is a tribute to the big heartedness of Americans.

Retardation Effort

President Kennedy has appointed a panel of physicians, scientists, educators and others to suggest an effective national effort in the field of the mentally retarded. It is hoped to discover causes, cures and methods of prevention if possible.

There are 5 million mentally retarded persons in the United States. Estimates indicate a rise to 6 million by 1970. Causes usually begin at birth and claim more victims than diabetes, tuberculosis, paralysis and other common diseases.

In human terms, the conquest of mental retardation, cancer, heart disease and other contributants to the misery of man was never more important than it is today, when human fitness is at a premium.

He Owes Success to Insomnia

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Playwright Harry Kurnitz believes it's easier to get ahead in life if you're a poor sleeper.

"I owe my success to insomnia" said the lanky author.

"I only sleep four or five hours and I'm usually up before 7. As most of my friends don't show up until noon, there is nobody around to distract me. I have nothing else to do but write.

"By the time the people I know are up and about, I've got six hours of work done. For this reason work has never interfered with my social life."

Kurnitz is convinced this habit of rising early to face his typewriter is the chief reason he was unable to remain a failure.

"I've known many extremely gifted men who became defeated in life simply because they lost the knack of production, of sticking to a disciplined working life."

Although Harry is known on two continents as a wit and boon companion, no one could accuse him of lack of production. At 53 he has turned out some 40 film scripts, several plays and 200 short stories, novelettes and mystery thrillers.

"In one 18-month period," he remarked, "I wrote a book, a play, three movies, and 19 magazine articles—and still managed to get out on the golf course by 1 p.m. each day.

"On the other hand, I once spent eight months on a play, then tore it up and had to start all over again.

"I was never able to match Noel Coward. He wrote two of his finest plays—'Blithe Spirit' and 'Private Lives'—in a total of 10 days."

Kurnitz, born in Manhattan and reared in Philadelphia, bade goodby to the academic world at 16 after graduating from high school. He learned the writing trade as copy boy and, later, reporter on half a dozen newspapers.

He knew his share of lean days.

"For years a lot of my fiction writing was wildly unsuccessful," he recalled. "Finally, I got the hang of it.

"But during the great American boom in the 1920s I was sleeping part of the time in the subway. I really didn't know there'd been a boom—until I read about the crash."

After reaching the top as a film writer, Kurnitz became bored with Hollywood and moved to Europe 10 years ago. He now lives in Paris.

"I like to be near casinos," he explained cheerfully. "My favorite hobby, besides golf, is gambling—and I'm lousy at both."

Kurnitz, a man with wide-ranging interests in modern art and literature, likes wine and good company and good conversation.

"I've tried to live on the theory that if I got run over the next moment I wouldn't have missed any experience in life available to me," he said.

"I believe in laughter, and I'm a born Pollyanna.

"I wake up each morning hoping that I'm on the brink of doing something great, meeting a glorious creature who'll adore me for myself alone, and finding a fortune in the seat of the next taxi I enter."

But he really doesn't need to find a fortune. He's already found it—in his typewriter.

Berlin — Test of Strength

By George Sokolsky

The decision has been made by East and West that the test of strength is to come over the issue of Berlin.

To many, this will appear to be an error. They would have preferred that the United States take its stand over Cuba or Laos or Taiwan. The die has been cast and we now face Soviet Russia at Berlin for a final decision. Both sides are moving into line.

The decision as to Germany was fixed by an international agreement signed in London on September 12, 1944. Representatives of the United States, the Soviet Union and Great Britain signed this agreement and it is still binding upon those nations. In due course, France joined them. In the Potsdam Conference the London Agreement was endorsed.

From the standpoint of international law, the position which we now take in Berlin is absolutely legitimate. The only proper way to vitiate this agreement is by a conference of the signatories to it for the purpose of amending or abolishing it. A unilateral change of this agreement by any one party to it has no legitimacy and can only lead to war. Actually World War I was fought over the issue of the unilateral violation of treaties and agreements.

The difficulty in the present situation is that whereas there is an agreement among the victors as to what they would do to the vanquished, there has been no peace treaty between Germany and the victors, although 16 years have passed. Furthermore, Germany has been divided into two parts, West and East Germany, and no peace treaty with a unified Germany is possible. Also, during these 16 years, the Allies have broken their various alliances so that Soviet Russia is actually an enemy of the United States and the Western World. Whereas East Germany has become a satellite of Soviet Russia, West Germany has become economically and militarily perhaps the strongest in Western Europe.

These changes involve adjustments in theory and operations and are cause for the present disturbances, the worst of which is the wanton firing of bombs by Soviet Russia to the peril of the entire world. Soviet Russia seeks to deal with current political problems by testing bombs.

What Khrushchev wants to accomplish by a campaign of terror is to force the United States and the other Western powers to recognize that the unification of Germany is impossible, that there inevitably must be two Germanys, that the United States and the other Western nations must recognize East Germany as they recognize West Germany, and that they must withdraw their troops from German territory.

This program would establish the Russian conquest of Germany without further battle. It would bring Russian power to the Rhine and force France to accept Soviet hegemony without further war. It would eliminate Western influences from Western Europe. It would imperil the existence of the Scandinavian countries and the Netherlands and Belgium. By a stroke of a pen the United States would find itself economically and politically isolated and would either accept such isolation or would have to fight for its right to access to other countries.

Under the circumstances of a Russian victory of this nature, the United Nations would go out of existence or would be moved to Berlin or Vienna and would cease to be an independent parliament of man. Rather, it would become an agency of Russian power, a peril to the pace of the world. It would become a political monster.

This is precisely the situation that we face in 1961 with little prospect of an early solution for the problems that arise from the complexities that mount daily. No acceptable formula for the solution of current problems has appeared from any quarter. In fact, conferences and meetings have produced increasing confusion and preludes to disaster. It looks like war.

MRS. REINHEIMER told her cousin, "I was getting so sick of the way the shipping company was banging around my trunks and cases that I labeled the last crates in big red letters, 'WITH CARE—BREAKABLE—CHINA'."

"Did it do any good?" asked the cousin.

"I don't know yet," admitted Mrs. Reinheimer. "They shipped the whole lot to Hong Kong."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Dear Doctor: You still haven't given a direct answer. Is meat tenderizer harmful, yes or no?

Mrs. P. H.

Dear Mrs. H.: No. It's made from papaya leaves. Even health food enthusiasts are enthusiastic over papaya fruit.

Still, if you enjoy tough chewing, don't tenderize!

Dear Doctor: Can garlic tablets keep me from bloating every time I eat?

Mrs. B. B.

Dear Mrs. B.: You seem to be swallowing lots of air. The allyl sulfide in garlic irritates the intestine like a tiny dose of castor oil. It shouldn't help your problem.

After your doctor checks for serious trouble, he may prescribe a detergent medicine that releases trapped bubbles to help you bring up that bloating gas.

Dear Doctor: Can you get tapeworm or any other disease from beef that's been frozen hard for months?

Mrs. A. I.

Dear Mrs. I.: You can't beef about tapeworms! The deep freeze kills them.

But freezing merely slows the growth of ordinary germs. Before or after the deep freeze, enough germs can grow in unrefrigerated beef to cause serious food poisoning later on.

Dear Doctor: Doctors are thinking about operating on the mitral valve in my heart. Will this operation completely cure me?

And will I be strong enough to have more children?

Mrs. B. S.

Dear Mrs. S.: Opening the narrowed valve that's blocking blood flow doesn't cure rheumatic heart disease.

Advice about future children depends upon how strongly your heart can beat. It has to carry quite a load when it pumps for two people.

Dear Doctor: Is equine influenza like encephalitis Should I have flu shots?

I'm always down with a cold or sore throat?

Mrs. O. K.

Dear Mrs. K.: Influenza is quite different from equine encephalitis, which begins when an infected mosquito bites you. Influenza or flu travels from person to person like a cold.

Since flu shots prevent only influenza, you may be down with a cold or sore throat — but not the flu.

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

Bell Telephone Injunction Sought

CLEVELAND (AP) — Common Pleas Court Judge Charles W. White says there should be quick action on a request for a permanent injunction preventing the transfer of employes from one city to another by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

The judge granted the Communications Workers of America a temporary injunction preventing Ohio Bell from moving 23 workers from the Youngstown area to Akron. He denied a union motion asking that a referee be appointed to hear evidence.

The CWA claimed the transfers violated terms of their contract and would mean broken homes and the uprooting of families.

The Great Plains has suffered often from grasshoppers. The most spectacular invasion occurred in the 1870s. Successive waves of grasshoppers ate grain, vegetables, tree leaves and weeds. When greenery was gone the voracious insects nibbled clothing, harness and pitchfork handles.

FAME A BIT LATE—Literary fame came rather late in life to Ivo Andric, 69-year-old winner of the 1961 Nobel Prize for Literature. Andric is a deputy in the Yugoslav Parliament, representing his native district of Bosnia. He is famous for a triology of novels published after World War II—"The Young Lady," "The Travnik Chronicle" (Travnik is his hometown) and "The Bridge of the River Drina." Critics consider "The Bridge" his best work.

U.S. Assistance Cars Halt Disputed Tours on Autobahn

BERLIN (AP)—The U. S. Army appears to have stopped sending its military assistance cars along the lifeline autobahn between Berlin and West Germany.

An informed source said no military assistance cars had made the 110-mile trip between West Berlin and West Germany for more than 30 hours since one was turned back by the Soviets early Monday.

West Berlin authorities had reported the cars moving without hindrance, but that may have been confusion with other U.S. military traffic. Numerous jeeps and heavy vehicles as well as staff sedans have been traveling over the superhighway in the move of a U.S. engineer company from West Berlin to West Germany.

U.S. authorities would not comment on the report the trips had been called off.

The source for the report assumed they had been halted while U.S. officials discussed the matter with Soviet army authorities.

The Americans sent the patrols along the auobahn to give assistance to American motorists who had trouble while traveling through Communist East Germany. The Soviets contend such U.S. patrols are unnecessary because the Red army is responsible for the route.

U.S. and Soviet tanks remained in readiness only 10 minutes apart on each side of the Communists' wal through Berlin.

While American and Soviet officials in Moscow discussed identification procedures on the Berlin border, the Soviets covered their tanks with canvas. The American tank crews, who had been sleeping inside their vehicles since last Friday, moved into tents.

The checkpoint at Friedrichstrasse was manned by a mere handful of U.S. military policemen. Two armored personnel carriers were parked 100 yards away. Spectators who had been present day and night for almost a week disappeared.

U.S. government civilians still were not allowed to enter East Berlin pending settlement of the identification question.

Dear Mrs. I.: You can't beef about tapeworms! The deep freeze kills them.

But freezing merely slows the growth of ordinary germs. Before or after the deep freeze, enough germs can grow in unrefrigerated beef to cause serious food poisoning later on.

Dear Doctor: Doctors are thinking about operating on the mitral valve in my heart. Will this operation completely cure me?

And will I be strong enough to have more children? Mrs. B. S.

Dear Mrs. S.: Opening the narrowed valve that's blocking blood flow doesn't cure rheumatic heart disease.

Advice about future children d e p e n d s upon how strongly your h e a r t can beat. It has to carry quite a load when it pumps for two people.

Dear Doctor: Is equine influenza like encephalitis S h o u l d I have flu shots?

I'm always down with a cold or sore throat? Mrs. O. K.

Dear Mrs. K.: Influenza is quite different from equine encephalitis, which begins when an infected mosquito bites you. Influenza or flu travels from person to person like a cold.

Since flu shots prevent only influenza, you may be down with a cold or sore throat — but not the flu.

Bell Telephone Injunction Sought

CLEVELAND (AP) — Common Pleas Court Judge Charles W. White says there should be quick action on a request for a permanent injunction preventing the transfer of employes from one city to another by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

The judge granted the Communications Workers of America a t e m p o r a r y injunction preventing Ohio Bell from m o v i n g 23 workers from the Youngstown area to Akron. He denied a union motion asking that a referee be appointed to hear evidence.

The CWA claimed the t r a n s-fers violated terms of their contract and would mean broken homes and the uprooting of families.

The Great Plains has suffered often from grasshoppers. The most spectacular invasion occurred in the 1870s. Successive waves of grasshoppers ate grain, vegetables, tree leaves and weeds. When greenery was gone the voracious insects nibbled clothing, harness and pitchfork handles.

FAME A BIT LATE—Literary fame came rather late in life to Ivo Andric, 69-year-old winner of the 1961 Nobel Prize for Literature. Andric is a deputy in the Yugoslav Parliament, representing his native district of Bosnia. He is famous for a triology of novels published after World War II—"The Young Lady," "The Travnik Chronicle" (Travnik is his hometown) and "The Bridge of the River Drina." Critics consider "The Bridge" his best work.

U.S. Assistance Cars Halt Disputed Tours on Autobahn

BERLIN (AP)—The U. S. Army appears to have stopped sending its military assistance cars along the lifeline autobahn between Berlin and West Germany.

An informed source said no military assistance cars had made the 110-mile trip between West Berlin and West Germany for more than 30 hours since one was turned back by the Soviets early Monday.

West Berlin authorities had reported the cars moving without hindrance, but that may have been confusion with other U.S. military traffic. Numerous jeeps and heavy vehicles as well as staff sedans have been traveling over the superhighway in the move of a U.S. engineer company from West Berlin to West Germany.

U.S. authorities would not comment on the report the trips had been called off.

The source for the report assumed they had been halted while U.S. officials discussed the matter with Soviet army authorities.

The Americans sent the patrols along the auobahn to give assistance to American motorists who had trouble while traveling through Communist East Germany. The Soviets contend such U.S. patrols are unnecessary because the Red army is responsible for the route.

U.S. and Soviet tanks remained in readiness only 10 minutes apart on each side of the Communists' wal through Berlin.

While American and Soviet officials in Moscow discussed identification procedures on the Berlin border, the Soviets covered their tanks with canvas. The American tank crews, who had been sleeping inside their vehicles since last Friday, moved into tents.

The checkpoint at Friedrichstrasse was manned by a mere handful of U.S. military policemen. Two armored personnel carriers were parked 100 yards away. Spectators who had been present day and night for almost a week disappeared.

U.S. government civilians still were not allowed to enter East Berlin pending settlement of the identification question.

Reber Bell House Scene Of Women's Halloween Fete

Kappa Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority was entertained Thursday night with a Halloween party hosted by Mrs. Reber Bell and Miss Mary McLaughlin at the Bell home, 451 N. Court Street.

Jack-O-Laterns decorated the walkways as members and guests arrived in masquerade costumes.

The traditional Halloween theme was maintained throughout the party rooms. Black and orange streamers and crepe paper pumpkins were hung from the ceilings. Pumpkins gaily decorated as beatniks, hobos, chinese and dressed-up pumpkin ladies were placed at vantage points throughout the party rooms. Orange and black candles glowed dimly lighting the stairway where a ghost appeared on the landing.

The stairway bannister was decorated with orange and black streamers and bows. Also, large bows of black and orange were placed at vantage points along the walls. Figures of black cats, witches, ghosts, goblins, owls and pumpkins decorated the windows and walls.

A lovely arrangment of dried autumn flowers and foliage decorated the mantle above the fireplace.

Games were played and prizes won by members and guests. Also, a prize was awarded for the best costume. There was a rhyme attached to each prize and from the rhymed clue, winners had to guess the contents before opening the prize.

The party invitations, previously sent to the sorority members, stated that each person invited was to bring a number which was enclosed and worded as follows: "Be sure to bring this number, you might win the door prize, which witches predict will make you healthy, wealthy and wise."

When the prize was awarded, it was found to be a minature bed decorated in orange and black construction paper and foil and a pumpkin at the head of the bed said: "Benjamin Franklin said early to bed and early to rise makes you healthy, wealthy and wise." Inside the bed was a bottle of pills for health, gold bricks for wealth and a miniature Book of Knowledge for wisdom.

The dining room was beautifully decorated in a Halloween theme. The refreshment table was centered with a large figure of a well-dressed pumpkin man, indian corn, gourds and a silver color cornucopia entwined with foliage and white chrysanthums. Favors of multi-colored chrysanthums tied with black ribbons and a gaily decorated party horn were presented to all who attended.

A witch and a pumpkin man, both made from oranges, lemons, gum drops and yarn, decorated the coffe service.

Refreshments of donuts, cider, apples, carmel corn and candy corn were served during the evening. Unique cakes decorated as owls and witches were served with coffee at the close of the party.

Those attending included Mrs Frank Boyer, Mrs. Lloyd Cox, Mrs. Robert Dahl, Mrs. Lawrence Hartman, Mrs. Albert Lovett, Mrs. Richard Robbins, Mrs. Thomas Shea, Mrs. Leroy Slusser, Mrs. Howard Snook, Miss Jane Badertscher, Miss Amy Miga and Miss Beverly Southward.

A MESSAGE FROM:

ROSEMARY MADER

CANDIDATE FOR CIRCLEVILLE SCHOOL DISTRICT BOARD OF EDUCATION:

These are some of the things which I hope to accomplish if elected:

1. A closer understanding and co-operation between administrator and teachers. If teachers are unhappy, our children suffer and our standards fall.
2. A closer contact between Board members and teachers and other school employees by visiting schools during school hours, observing their needs, and hearing their suggestions or criticisms.
3. A closer contact between parents and Board members. As a Board member, I want to be "approachable" so that parents, teachers, other school employees may feel free to talk over their problems and know that they will receive consideration at Board meetings.
4. A closer study by the board of applicants for teaching positions.
5. An investigation into needed curriculum revision.
6. A continuing survey of our future needs and an attempt to put to good use all our present available space.
7. A policy of urging those teachers without degrees to continue summer work to secure them.
8. An attempt to get the best for our children for every dollar we spend.
9. If interested persons have a proposal or request to make to the Board, that request should be presented in writing to the Board prior to its next meeting. These persons should feel free to attend the meeting, as spectators, when the proposal is discussed.

Dear Abby...

Boy Needs Different Home

DEAR ABBY: Four years ago my husband started running around with another woman. He always wanted children, and I didn't, so, in order to hold him, I consented to take a little two-year-old boy to raise. Well, now I have my husband back, and I would like to get rid of this kid because his being here complicates things too much. I just don't have time to bother with him, as I work days. Please tell me how or where I can get rid of the boy. Thank you.

COMPLICATIONS

DEAR COMPLICATIONS: Where did you get this boy? Did you legally adopt him, or did you simply agree to assume the responsibility of raising him? In any case, get in touch with your local Legal Aid Society and find out what legal procedures are involved. It is a pity that small humans are handed over like kittens to "hold a husband." Under the circumstances, I think the boy should have another home. He could hardly do worse.

DEAR ABBY: We know for sure that those who pray together, stay together. I wish I could say the same for those who eat together. Why is it that those who do not have store teeth are very inconsiderate of those who do? People who have their own teeth can chew and swallow in half the time it takes us folks with store teeth. I am tempted to say, "I can't eat as fast as you with these teeth, so please don't talk to me while I am eating." Can you tell me a nicer way to put it so folks won't think I'm a roughneck?

STORE TEETH

DEAR STORE TEETH: Properly fit "store teeth" will do the same for the wearer as his own teeth. There is no reason to suffer with teeth such as you describe. Go back to the dentist who made them for you and put the "bite" on him for a better fit.

DEAR ABBY: I am fifteen and am practically the "man" of the house. My Dad is an alcoholic, and is "sick" almost every night. I do most of the chores because my Mom works. I know there is no answer to my problem, but please print it for those who have it good and don't know it.

LITTLE MAN

DEAR LITTLE MAN: There IS an "answer." And it's listed in your telephone directory under "A." If you can get your Dad to want to help himself, Alcoholics Anonymous can do a lot for him.

A MESSAGE FROM:

ROSEMARY MADER

CANDIDATE FOR CIRCLEVILLE SCHOOL DISTRICT BOARD OF EDUCATION:

These are some of the things which I hope to accomplish if elected:

1. A closer understanding and co-operation between administrator and teachers. If teachers are unhappy, our children suffer and our standards fall.
2. A closer contact between Board members and teachers and other school employees by visiting schools during school hours, observing their needs, and hearing their suggestions or criticisms.
3. A closer contact between parents and Board members. As a Board member, I want to be "approachable" so that parents, teachers, other school employees may feel free to talk over their problems and know that they will receive consideration at Board meetings.
4. A closer study by the board of applicants for teaching positions.
5. An investigation into needed curriculum revision.
6. A continuing survey of our future needs and an attempt to put to good use all our present available space.
7. A policy of urging those teachers without degrees to continue summer work to secure them.
8. An attempt to get the best for our children for every dollar we spend.
9. If interested persons have a proposal or request to make to the Board, that request should be presented in writing to the Board prior to its next meeting. These persons should feel free to attend the meeting, as spectators, when the proposal is discussed.

Social Security Head Sends Reminder to Beneficiaries

E. H. Biedenholz, manager of the Chillicothe district office of the Social Security Administration, announced today that a special reminder will be enclosed with October social security checks that are to be delivered this week.

The reminder is for social security beneficiaries to report any event that may affect their payments. Biedenholz stated most beneficiaries comply voluntarily and promptly with this requirement, but some, especially those who have been receiving payments for several years, need a reminder of the facts they are required to report.

The district manager said beneficiaries who fail to report certain events that occur may be subject to federal penalty. The provisions are:

1. Work while under age 72 for more than $100 a month as an employee or rendering substantial services in any month as a self-employed person and expecting to earn over $1,200 in the year.
2. Marriage or adoption of a child entitled to benefits;
3. Remarriage of a widow, widower or parent of a deceased worker;
4. Divorce or annulment if receiving benefits as a wife or husband;
5. Death — checks issued on behalf of a person who dies should be returned;
6. Custody change — report if a child or other person for whom you receive benefits leaves your care;
7. Return to work, improvement in condition of a person receiving benefits.

Scientists Say Odds Practically Nil Present Radiation Level Is Harmful

EDITOR'S NOTE—Soviet weapons testing has set off a worldwide wave of concern over radioactive fallout. Can the hazards, to you and your family, be accurately assessed? What's the best scientific consensus? This is the first of three articles on the subject.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The scariest word of the day is fallout.

But experts say no one can point to any human being and declare: "He's been hurt by fallout from bomb tests." Or: "That woman's baby will be born defective because of fallout, or her grandchildren will."

The odds are practically nil that present amounts of fallout will hurt you as an individual.

Yet it is equally true that some people somewhere will be damaged or will die too soon—possibly ultimately thousands of people—from fallout already loosed by bomb tests.

The Sovet 50-megaton bomb test could add perhaps hundreds or even thousands of potential victims to the list.

But one fact must be made clear. All such estimates mean thousands out of hundreds of millions or even billions of persons who would be born in the next 30, 50 to 100 years or more.

"Fallout" triggers a host of other scary words: Radioactivity. Mystery. Bone cancer. "Poisoned milk" for babies. Children doomed from bad genes. Leukemia. Strontium. Ashes of death.

Fallout stirs vast emotions, including worry that testing of weapons increases chances of nuclear war.

For 15 years, scientists have been gathering the story about fallout.

But they cannot yet answer a key question: Exactly how little radiation does it take to cause human cancer or leukemia? Or to damage the genes which determine the inheritance of our children?

This is one basis for statements by scientists which seem confusing often to the public.

Some say the effects from past and present fallout are too tiny even to measure. They do not deny there will not be some effects.

Others estimate numbers.

Thus Dr. Linus Pauling, Nobel Prize-winning chemist, estimates 40,000 children would be born with physical and mental defects as a direct consequence of a single 50-megaton bomb. He says this would happen during the next several generations—60 to 90 years or more—among an estimated 100 million children born each year all around the world.

Fallout even from the Soviet tests, says a U. S. Public Health Service official, "is a cause for concern, but not yet for alarm."

Look at the significant details in the fallout story, and you can judge better for yourself what the hazards are.

First, fallout can be a lion or a mosquito, relatively speaking. The lion-sized danger would come in H-bomb warfare.

Bombs striking cities and missile bases would suck up millions of tons of dirt, making it highly radioactive, carrying it perhaps 20 miles high.

In an hour, it would start falling down, carpeting great areas with radioactivity if they did not have shelter.

In 48 hours, it would lose 99 per cent of its intensity, and become safe enough so you could move about, or get out of the area.

Fallout from bomb testing is a mosquito compared with war bombings.

Scientists generally agree that all the radioactivity from testing —until the Soviets resumed—had increased by only a few per cent the amount of natural radioactivity in which all humans have always lived.

Current Soviet tests could increase the added amount by two-thirds. But that still means perhaps a total over-all of 5 to 6 per cent more radiation than has always existed naturally.

What, first of all, is the natural or background radiation?

It means that every minute, 5,400 potassium atoms break down and emit rays in the body of a 130-pound person.

Every minute, more than 2,000 radioactive carbon-14 atoms explode also.

You get in food the radioactive potassium, which has always been on the earth. Carbon-14 atoms, created by cosmic rays, to enter living plants, animals, and human beings.

Cosmic rays zip through the human body at a rate of about 1,000 per minute, and some might cause genetic changes. If you live at an altitude of one mile, as in Denver, you are hit by twice as many cosmic rays as persons at sea level.

We all breathe radioactive gases from radium and thorium.

Uranium, radium and thorium in the ground, and in rocks, in cement and in bricks, shoot at you constantly with X rays.

All of this unavoidably adds up to an average exposure of about 4½ roentgens of radiation in 30 years of living. Roentgens are a measure of radiation intensity. An efficient X ray of the chest exposes you to 1-10th to 1-25 of one roentgen.

A 5 per cent increase in radiation due to bomb test fallout means that in 30 years, the average person would get exposed to about 1-5th of a roentgen more.

But there are other important considerations beyond this.

Next: Fallout and effects on heredity.

Concentration Camp Syndrome Still Lingers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The concentration camp syndrome, a new technique that may aid brain surgeons, and drugs that do double duty are subjects for focus on health:

Concentration Camp Syndrome

So many former prisoners of World War II concentration camps complained of aches and pains, fatigue and lethargy many years after they were released that doctors began to call it the concentration camp syndrome.

The cause has been a puzzle. But now a group of Norwegian researchers in a detailed study of former camp inmates feel the problems may be physical—caused by real damage to the brain.

Researchers point out that prisoners were often struck on the head during work periods or interrogation (50 of the first 100 studied had been knocked unconscious during imprisonment.)

All endured long periods of starvation and exhaustion, and many suffered infections that could have affected the brain.

Cool It.

The brain can normally go without blood for only three or four minutes at normal body temperature before damage sets in. This is a serious problem for surgeons in delicate brain operations.

But now Stanford University surgeons have been able to deprive the brain of blood for up to 10 minutes in operations without harm.

They first circulate cold blood through the brain, dropping the brain temperature to 68 degrees, 30 below normal. This apparently slows the brain's metabolism and eventually may enable bloodless brain operations up to an hour in length.

Daily Double

The new oral drugs that help diabetics control the sugar in their blood may also be helpful in controlling hardening of the arteries in the same people.

Since the drugs effectively lower blood sugar, they cannot be used for controlling atherosclerosis or hardening arteries in nondiabetics. But biochemists hope that a new chemical agent might be designed that retains the atherosclerosis control but leaves blood sugar alone.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — "Is it safe to hang my clothes out to dry?" asked the nervous woman on the telephone in a call to the Weather Bureau.

She wasn't worried about rainfall—Monday was a clear day — but about radioactive fallout as a result of Soviet nuclear blasts.

The weather man assured her it was okay and that if the air ever reached a dangerous level she'd know about it in plenty of time.

Brando Is Fully Fed Up With $5,000-a-Day Job

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Mutiny on the Bounty" is scheduled to finish shooting today. Thus will end what Marlon Brando called "the worst experience of my acting career."

Except that it won't be the end. He has been told that the company will take off two weeks while the finished product is assembled, then shoot added scenes which will take "between three and six weeks." Brando fears it may be months.

"Yes, I know some people will crab, 'What's he got to bleed about? He's getting well paid' ($5,000 a day overtime). But after you've got enough, money doesn't matter."

Brando said he had volunteered to forego his salary when the film hit a reef in Tahiti. He wanted the company to shut down until a playable script could be written. The offer was rejected.

"I've asked for a finished script for a year and a half," he said. "There have been 30 different versions of the script, but never have I received a finished script.

"We went to Tahiti with no idea of how the final third of the picture was going to be. How could you write a novel if you didn't know how it was going to end?

"A week ago I decided I'd had it—plus eight. I was so frustrated, so tied up, I was getting palpitations. I had indigestion all the time. I was snapping at aspirin like a Christmas goose pecking corn.

"I finally went to the front office and said no more show until I get the last 10 pages of script. I was promised them first thing in the morning. I didn't get them in the morning. They promised them at 2. The pages came at 2 and I asked if they would be the final, unchanged version. I was told they would be. And look—"

He displayed the pages, a mass of revisions.

Recent printed reports portrayed Brando as a villain in pushing the film to a record cost —now $18.5 million.

"If I do something stupid I expect to get rapped for it," he said. "If I give a lousy performance I expect to get bum reviews. But I don't expect to get blamed for something I haven't done."

At the end of his report he sighed a deep, Brando sigh.

"I don't care what happens now," he said. "I just want to get it over with—before I lose my mind."

NEW BEAUTICIAN — Miss Ann Weidinger, N. Court St., recently was graduated from the Ohio State School of Cosmetology, Columbus, and plans to locate in Columbus. Her program required about seven months of training, including a course in advanced hair styling.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — At this moment the West can't tell whether it gained or lost by what happened at the Russian Communist party's 22nd congress in Moscow.

But Khrushchev, now that the congress is over, can devote himself more wholeheartedly to restoring mankind to its usual jumpy condition.

The world was relatively quiet these past two weeks—except for Russia's 50-megator explosion, riots in Paris, a nerve-war in Berlin, trouble in the Congo—while Khrushchev busied himself at home with the congress.

Now he's free again to concentrate on causing Allied dissension, jittering the world over the possibility of nuclear war, giving propaganda interviews and disclosing how to cook an enemy with a missile.

To nobody's surprise, least of all his, the congress was a great success for him.

He got himself re-elected party head, rid himself of a few people he no longer wanted in high places, won hearty apprval from his 20-year economic plan, led a demolition squad that blew up the remnants of Stalin worship and attacked the absent Albanian Communists.

Unexpectedly—or maybe it was not unexpected at all — Premier Chou En-lai of Red China, which supports Albania and considers itself very Stalinist, walked out.

Khrushchev, of course, got full support from the Russian congress delegates, as he knew he would, from his denunciation of Albania. He may have done this deliberately.

It served to show the Red Chinese, who have become a pain in the neck to him because of their disagreement with his policies and in time may become Russia's greatest rival and enemy, that whatever he did, he did with full Russian support.

Still, those two weeks of Khrushchev's preoccupation with the congress gave the Western allies a little more time to try to reconcile their differences about making concessions to Khrushchev on Berlin, or not making them.

So far as is known they reconciled nothing. And they are not likely to have so much quietude again for a long time since now Khrushchev again can give them his full attention and throw some more logs on their fire.

In reality — and only time will show it— the West, like Khrushchev, may have gained a lot from the congress. Possibly it gained nothing, lost much. For the time being it can't tell which.

This much is clear:

Khrushchev emerged from the congress stronger than ever. He got full endorsement for his policies. His Albanian critics were denounced. His own critics at home among the old Bolsheviks were shoved aside.

This—symbolized by the party's full break with Stalinism—leaves him freer than he has ever been to pursue what policies he thinks right, even when they appear the opposite of what the onetime infallible Stalin might have done.

One of those opposite policies is his effort to represent himself as much more reasonable than the hard-nosed Stalin, as a man who believes in "peaceful coexistence."

His very "reasonableness" is supposed to be the foot of the trouble between him and the old Bolsheviks, the Red Chinese and the Albanians.

But what the West can't be sure of is whether the reasonableness is real or a grand device to soften it into concessions.

It is this very uncertainty that makes it tougher to deal with Khrushchev than with Stalin. He wants concessions that from his viewpoint, are not unreasonable at all.

Yet the West knows clearly that if it makes concessions too far reaching, communism under Khrushchev may gain far more without fighting than Stalin could have achieved with outright war.

Perhaps the best hope the West can nurse is that the party congress created a split with Red China, which can't be healed and which, for the sake of future self-protection, will shove Russia toward the Western camp.

Appellate Court Reverses Decision

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 10th District Court of Appeals reversed today an armed robbery conviction by a Franklin County Criminal Court jury.

Charles Raynard of Toledo had been convicted in a $6,000 robbery of a poker party in Columbus last January. Police had charged that Raynard and two accomplices had robbed the players at gunpoint.

The appellate court contended that several key questions were overruled during the trial, specifically those asked James Westlake of Columbus, one of the other men. Defense attorneys claimed Westlake was prejudiced against Raynard and Richard Bostic of Columbus, the third man.

Westlake and Bostic also were convicted. Bostic is appealing the case.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) —Muharem Dautovic is suing the Yugoslav government for damages because a bear attacked his wife.

AP Guesspert Taps Spartans To Top Gophers

Ole Miss, Ohio State, Texas, Alabama also Tagged for Victories

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Every so often it pays to be reminded of the late Bob Zuppke's statement that a football is a prolate spheroid filled with crazy bounces. Last week there were 17 crazy bounces that were not anticipated in 55 chances. That's .691.

Now for this week's bounces:

Michigan State over Minnesota: Sandy Stephens has been as good a quarterback as there is in the country for the Gophers these past two weeks but he hasn't encountered such a horde of talent as Michigan State will display.

Mississippi over Louisiana State: The Ole Miss defense is so stingy it has given up only 13 points to a total of six foes.

Texas over Southern Methodist: The nation's best offensive team won't miss fullback Ray Poage.

Alabama over Mississippi State: Pat (Trammell) and Mike (Fracchia) give Alabama a big edge.

Ohio State over Iowa: Bob Ferguson, the Ohio State fullback, is the difference.

Elsewhere in other major games:

Georgia Tech over Florida, Colorado over Missouri, Notre Dame over Navy, Purdue over Illinois, Utah State over Brigham Young, Northwestern over Indiana, Kansas over Nebraska, Penn State over Maryland, Syracuse over Pitt, Washington over Southern Cal, Miami (Fla.) over Georgia.

Bowling Green over West Texas State, Oklahoma over Kansas State, Cincinnati over Tulsa, Wichita over Oklahoma State, Xavier over Louisville and Holy Cross over Dayton.

Juniors Set Guns For Grid Season's Finale Tomorrow

Circleville's junior high Tiny Tigers, out to break a two-game losing skein in their final game of the grid season, play at home tomorrow night against a team they defeated decisively in their first tilt of the year.

Lancaster Thomas Ewing fills the visitor's slot for the wrapup tilt. Coach Paul Sarchet's Tiny Tigers knocked off the Fairfield Countians 26-0 for the first of three wins in 1961 competition.

Kickoff time is 6 p. m. on the CHS field. A victory would give the locals a 4-2 season slate.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Juvenile delinquents working on temporary basis for the Cleveland Metropolitan Park District should belong to the Public Employes Retirement System, Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy has ruled.

A group of 16 boys are working as trainees on the district property in Cuyahoga County, according to system officials.

Gillman Rates His Chargers Very Highly

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sid Gillman claims his unbeaten San Diego Chargers would "do all right" in any pro football league and could win the championship anywhere with about six more players.

Gillman's Chargers, winners of eight straight, can clinch a tie for the Western Division title of the American Football League this weekend. If the second-place Dallas Texans (3-4) lose to Boston Friday night, and San Diego (8-0) thumps the New York Titans in a rematch Sunday, the Chargers could lose them all and still wind up in a playoff.

The Chargers' coach, who bossed the Los Angeles Rams in the National Football League from 1955 to 1959, said in San Diego today that he was not concerned about throwing the new league out of balance.

"I don't care how many we win," he said. "As far as I'm concerned the kind of balance I'd like to be in this league is underneath with the Chargers way out front.

"We think we have a good football team. Give us about six more good football players and we'd win anywhere."

Gillman couldn't say enough nice things about Jack Kemp, his 26-year-old passer who has been bothered by an injury to his left shoulder.

"We think Kemp will be one of the great ones," said Gillman. "The kid had a few opportunities in the other league where he always was playing behind a veteran. If Kemp doesn't hit his pace as the greatest in the game, blame it on mishandling."

Broncos Prep For 'Big One'

Final Grid Game Set Here Friday

The teams won't be battling for a championship, but Friday's home football contest with Jonathan Alder of Plain City looms as the "Big Game" in every respect as far as Ashville's Broncos are concerned.

Wrapped up in the grid package billed to burst opon the county Fairgrounds field at 8 p. m will be Ashville's Homecoming and final tilt of the 1961 season. A win for the Broncos would insure at least a share of fifth place in the eight-team Darby Valley League, while a loss would drop them permanently into seventh spot.

Cast in the spoiler role against Ashville is an Alder club which has also a great deal at stake in the contest. Both squads had defeated Jamestown Greenview, Alder last week by a 22-14 count. A loss would plunge the Plain City unit into at best a tie for fifth in the DVL.

Greenview coach John Whitefield, comparing notes this week with Bronco mentor Russ Gregg, stated he felt the two outfits were evenly matched. He gave Ashville the advantage on the basis of a stronger inside running attack led by fullback Dan Hollenback.

* * *

ALDER FAVORS a spread offense using a barrage of pitchouts and short forward passes to punch for yardage. Gregg has ordered his squad to concentrate on defensing passes during their last heavy workout tonight. The JA line is usually unbalanced. Alder's ground game is not outstanding, but Gregg has warned his players, "They will be quite adequate on running as far as we're concerned. We want to take no chances."

Ashville — with a 1-6-1 overall record and a 1-4-1 DVL ticket — will be out to draw first blood in the scrap. Gregg is convinced an early touchdown could spell the difference between victory and defeat for the Broncos.

Top Hitting Hurlers In Majors Named

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Larsen of the Chicago White Sox and Curt Simmons of the St. Louis Cardinals topped the major league pitchers in batting during the 1961 baseball season.

Larsen, who started the campaign with Kansas City, led the American League hurlers at bat with a .311 average, statistics compiled by The Associated Press showed today. The big righthanded swinger collected 14 hits in 45 at bats.

Simmons, a southpaw hitter, batted .303 in pacing National League pitchers. A former Philadelphia whiz kid who found the comeback trail with the Cards, Simmons delivered 20 hits in 66 trips.

Larry Reynolds, who rides the Maryland circuit, passed the 200-winner mark during the first nine months of 1961.

Garden State Favorite Role Seen No Jinx

NEW YORK (AP) — The fact that only three of eight favorites have won the Garden State stakes, the world's richest horse race, does not faze the owner of trainer of Donut King, the 6-5 pre-race favorite.

The 2-year-old classic will be run over a mile and a sixteenth at the Garden State track in Camden, N.J., Saturday. The names of 12 juveniles probably will be placed in the entry box on Friday. If 12 run, the gross purse will be $302,365 with $181,419 going to the winner.

"I think we have the best horse," said owner Verne H. Winchell Jr., of Alhambra, Calif., today. "We're worried about only one horse. That's Crimson Satan."

Crimson Satan, who runs in the colors of the Crimson King Farm of Lexington, Ky., owned by Peter Salmens Sr., of Detroit, was listed as the 8-5 second choice. Willie Shoemaker will be his rider. Donald Pierce will ride Donut King, replacing the suspended Manuel Ycaza, who rode Donut King to a head decision over favored Jaipur in the mile Champagne at Aqueduct. Jaipur has been retired for the year.

"Donut King really likes the Garden State track," said trainer Ron McAnally. "We don't really know how Donut King can run in the mud but he had a 4-furlong breeze in 48 seconds last Friday and won the Garden State Trial by 9 lengths last Saturday."

In taking the second division of the trial Donut King's time was 1:44 4-5. Crimson Satan won the first division, the first time he was handled by Shoemaker, by 7 lengths in 1:44 1-5.

Ex-Ohio Coach Dies in Oregon

MEDFORD, Ore. (AP) — Jim Aiken, former University of Oregon football coach, collapsed suddenly and died after speaking at a banquet in Medford Tuesday.

Aiken, presently athletic director of Roseburg, Ore., High School, had just addressed a meeting of the Medford Linebackers Club. He was pronounced dead a few minutes later.

A graduate of Washington and Jefferson University in Pennsylvania, Aiken coached at several Ohio high schools, then went to the University of Nevada before coming to Oregon.

Turnpike Take Zooms

Cleveland (AP) — Estimated revenue of $2,093,000 from operation of the Ohio Turnpike last month was the highest for an Ocober since the toll road was opened six years ago. James W. Shocknessy, Ohio Turnpike Commission chairman, reports.

Ohio State-Iowa Tilt Seen Crucial in Big Ten Standings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

To say that Ohio State fullback Bob Ferguson is unstoppable may be a slight exaggeration but it is closer to the truth than the Iowa Hawkeyes would like to believe.

Iowa has to face the fifth-ranked Buckeyes this Saturday in a crucial Big Ten game that earlier had the implications of a showdown for the conference title and perhaps national championship honors. But Iowa was upset last week by Purdue while Ferguson powered the Buckeyes to a 30-21 victory over Wisconsin.

So now the Hawkeyes, ranked ninth nationally got their turn to try and check the 216-pound senior All-America from Troy, Ohio. Last week against Wisconsin, he gained 124 yards, getting 52 in 7 carries on the Buckeyes second touchdown drive.

In another crucial Big Ten clash Saturday, pitting top-ranked Michigan State against Minnesota, the latter will have its top backfield intact now that Bill Munsey is back at right halfback after being injured. Michigan State still isn't sure if backs Gary Ballman and Herman Johnson will be ready.

Army hit the injury doldrums when Joe Blackgrove, its speedy halfback who can also take a turn as a quarterback, was idled by a sprained ankle. The Cadets already have lost No. 1 signal-caller Dick Eckert for two weeks and will use soph Jim Beierschmitt against the University of Detroit this week.

Missouri, prepping for its key Big Eight contest against Colorado, lost Larry Nichols, its top pass receiver, for the season. He had been advised to drop football because of evidence of organic heart disease.

Syracuse's veteran backfield was reunited for its battle against Pitt when co-captain Dick Easterly returned at right half after being injured three weeks ago. Soph quarterback Tom O'Grady was elevated to the No. 1 spot at Northwestern for his work against Notre Dame while the Irish may have lost center Tom Hecomovich for the season with a neck injury.

Michigan tackle John Schopf will miss this week's game against Duke because of injuries.

Newly Wed Gopher Is Back of Week

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Sandy Stephens of Minnesota, a brand new bridegroom picked as Back of the Week in The Associated Press poll, isn't quite ready to fully credit his new-found football fortunes to his week-old marriage.

"I don't know yet," said the mild-mannered young man with the bruising style of play. "If things don't go right with Michigan State Saturday, the experts just may reverse themselves."

The Gophers coaching staff has kiddingly attributed Stephens' spurt to his marriage to an attractive St. Paul, Minn., girl two days before the Michigan victory last Saturday.

Hayes Says Iowa To Force Passing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes says he is disregarding Iowa's 9-0 loss to Purdue last week in a game played in mud.

Hayes, in a telephone interview with Chicago football writers, said:

"Good backs just can't operate on that kind of a field, and Iowa has plenty of them. I don't think we'll be able to run against Iowa as we have other teams and we probably will have to pass more than we have all season. This is our homecoming and we expect to make a good account of ourselves."

The fifth-ranked Buckeyes collide with the Hawkeyes here Saturday.

Watkins Is Tapped As Browns' Half

CLEVELAND (AP)—Tom Watkins will be at left halfback today when the Cleveland Browns start preparations for their game with the Pittsburgh Steelers here Sunday afternoon.

The rookie from Iowa State also will start against the Sellers if Bobby Mitchell is not permitted to play.

Mitchell checked in at Fort Meade, Md., Tuesday, but probably won't know until Thursday or Friday whether or not he will be permitted to play against the Steelers.

National Football League rules permit service personnel to participate in league games, and the Browns will continue with only 35 players on the rosters, leaving a vacancy for Mitchell if he gets an okay from the Army.

"I think we have the best horse," said owner Verne H. Winchell Jr., of Alhambra, Calif., today. "We're worried about only one horse. That's Crimson Satan."

Crimson Satan, who runs in the colors of the Crimson King Farm of Lexington, Ky., owned by Peter Salmens Sr., of Detroit, was listed as the 8-5 second choice. Willie Shoemaker will be his rider. Donald Pierce will ride Donut King, replacing the suspended Manuel Ycaza, who rode Donut King to a head decision over favored Jaipur in the mile Champagne at Aqueduct. Jaipur has been retired for the year.

"Donut King really likes the Garden State track," said trainer Ron McAnally. "We don't really know how Donut King can run in the mud but he had a 4-furlong breeze in 48 seconds last Friday and won the Garden State Trial by 9 lengths last Saturday."

In taking the second division of the trial Donut King's time was 1:44 4-5. Crimson Satan won the first division, the first time he was handled by Shoemaker, by 7 lengths in 1:44 1-5.

Ex-Ohio Coach Dies in Oregon

MEDFORD, Ore. (AP) — Jim Aiken, former University of Oregon football coach, collapsed suddenly and died after speaking at a banquet in Medford Tuesday.

Aiken, presently athletic director of Roseburg, Ore., High School, had just addressed a meeting of the Medford Linebackers Club. He was pronounced dead a few minutes later.

A graduate of Washington and Jefferson University in Pennsylvania, Aiken coached at several Ohio high schools, then went to the University of Nevada before coming to Oregon.

Turnpike Take Zooms

Cleveland (AP) — Estimated revenue of $2,093,000 from operation of the Ohio Turnpike last month was the highest for an Ocober since the toll road was opened six years ago. James W. Shocknessy, Ohio Turnpike Commission chairman, reports.

Ohio State-Iowa Tilt Seen Crucial in Big Ten Standings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

To say that Ohio State fullback Bob Ferguson is unstoppable may be a slight exaggeration but it is closer to the truth than the Iowa Hawkeyes would like to believe.

Iowa has to face the fifth-ranked Buckeyes this Saturday in a crucial Big Ten game that earlier had the implications of a showdown for the conference title and perhaps national championship honors. But Iowa was upset last week by Purdue while Ferguson powered the Buckeyes to a 30-21 victory over Wisconsin.

So now the Hawkeyes, ranked ninth nationally got their turn to try and check the 216-pound senior All-America from Troy, Ohio. Last week against Wisconsin, he gained 124 yards, getting 52 in 7 carries on the Buckeyes second touchdown drive.

In another crucial Big Ten clash Saturday, pitting top-ranked Michigan State against Minnesota, the latter will have its top backfield intact now that Bill Munsey is back at right halfback after being injured. Michigan State still isn't sure if backs Gary Ballman and Herman Johnson will be ready.

Army hit the injury doldrums when Joe Blackgrove, its speedy halfback who can also take a turn as a quarterback, was idled by a sprained ankle. The Cadets already have lost No. 1 signal-caller Dick Eckert for two weeks and will use soph Jim Beierschmitt against the University of Detroit this week.

Missouri, prepping for its key Big Eight contest against Colorado, lost Larry Nichols, its top pass receiver, for the season. He had been advised to drop football because of evidence of organic heart disease.

Syracuse's veteran backfield was reunited for its battle against Pitt when co-captain Dick Easterly returned at right half after being injured three weeks ago. Soph quarterback Tom O'Grady was elevated to the No. 1 spot at Northwestern for his work against Notre Dame while the Irish may have lost center Tom Hecomovich for the season with a neck injury.

Michigan tackle John Schopf will miss this week's game against Duke because of injuries.

Newly Wed Gopher Is Back of Week

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Sandy Stephens of Minnesota, a brand new bridegroom picked as Back of the Week in The Associated Press poll, isn't quite ready to fully credit his new-found football fortunes to his week-old marriage.

"I don't know yet," said the mild-mannered young man with the bruising style of play. "If things don't go right with Michigan State Saturday, the experts just may reverse themselves."

The Gophers coaching staff has kiddingly attributed Stephens' spurt to his marriage to an attractive St. Paul, Minn., girl two days before the Michigan victory last Saturday.

Hayes Says Iowa To Force Passing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes says he is disregarding Iowa's 9-0 loss to Purdue last week in a game played in mud.

Hayes, in a telephone interview with Chicago football writers, said:

"Good backs just can't operate on that kind of a field, and Iowa has plenty of them. I don't think we'll be able to run against Iowa as we have other teams and we probably will have to pass more than we have all season. This is our homecoming and we expect to make a good account of ourselves."

The fifth-ranked Buckeyes collide with the Hawkeyes here Saturday.

Watkins Is Tapped As Browns' Half

CLEVELAND (AP)—Tom Watkins will be at left halfback today when the Cleveland Browns start preparations for their game with the Pittsburgh Steelers here Sunday afternoon.

The rookie from Iowa State also will start against the Sellers if Bobby Mitchell is not permitted to play.

Mitchell checked in at Fort Meade, Md., Tuesday, but probably won't know until Thursday or Friday whether or not he will be permitted to play against the Steelers.

National Football League rules permit service personnel to participate in league games, and the Browns will continue with only 35 players on the rosters, leaving a vacancy for Mitchell if he gets an okay from the Army.

HE GREW HAIR

Before Erickson Treatment

A Few Months Later
Mr. T. A. Melton, Jr., of Hollidaysburg, Pa. (above) gave about 20 minutes of his time for an interview with the Erickson representative — saved and regrew his hair in only a few months with the exclusive home method.
Erickson
HAIR and SCALP SPECIALISTS
World's Largest Home Treatment System
Will be in Chillicothe, Ohio
Tomorrow Thursday, November 2 Only
The Erickson Hair and Scalp Specialists' Staff Director, J. C. Kell on his regularly scheduled visit will be at the Warner Hotel, Chillicothe, Ohio, Thursday, November 2. Every hair-worried person should take advantage of this great opportunity.
The Erickson method is known all over the United States. You can have a conference with the Erickson representative regarding your hair and scalp problems at no cost to you whatsoever, learn how the scalp treatments work, and the results you can expect in a short period of time.
Results guaranteed by the Erickson organization. We don't ask you to take our word. You will be given a written guarantee from the beginning to end on a pro-rated basis.
The Erickson scalp method, or any other method, is of no value against excessive hair loss due to male pattern baldness. The person shown above does not have male pattern baldness. If you are slick bald after years of gradual hair loss the Erickson scalp method cannot help you.
If you have dandruff, excessive hair fall, thinning hair, excessive oiliness or dryness, itchy scalp, or if your scalp is still creating hair you should take 20 minutes of your time to see what you can do.
Thousands have reported satisfaction from the Erickson Scalp Method. Why burden yourself with unhealthy hair and scalp? Anyway it costs you nothing to come in and learn how thousands have been helped by the years of Erickson experience plus the wonderful opportunity for help it offers. Just go to the Warner Hotel in Chillicothe, Ohio on Thursday, November 2 only, between 1 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. Ask the Hotel Desk Clerk for J. C. Kell, he will do the rest.
Interviews are given in private. You will not be embarrassed in any way.

Adios Butler To Conclude His Campaign on West Coast

INGLEWOD, Calif. — World Champion Pacer Adios Butler's final appearance here Saturday will highlight the fifth week of Western Harness Racing Assn. action at nearby Hollywood Park.

Soon after Saturday's test, Adios Butler will be flown to the East Coast for a $50,000 race Nov. 11 at Roosevelt Raceway in New York.

That will be the finale of the Butler's racing career.

He then is scheduled to be retired to stud on a farm near Washington C.H., Ohio.

The 5-year-old son of Adios, who already holds the world record at a mile with a 1:54.3 clocking, Saturday will gun for the mile-and-one-eighth record of 2:15 set in 1953 by Dudley Hanover and later tied by Dottie's Pick in 1958. Both marks by Dudley Hanover and Dottie's Pick were established at Hollywood Park.

As was the case in the first two legs of the Classic, there will be no parimutuel wagering on Adios Butler, although the latter will be eligible for the first place purse if he wins the race. In the event of a Butler victory, the second place horse will move up to first as far as wagering is concerned, with the third and fourth place horses also moving up a notch for betting purposes.

Scheduled to contest Adios Butler in the final leg are Caduceus, the 11-year-old New Zealand champ; Dancer Hanover, Right Time, Stephan Smith, Newport Admiral, Mr. Budlong, and Vicki's Jet.

Also on tap Saturday will be the first leg of the $80,000 American Trotting Classic, which will be contested at a mile and will bring out the top trotters in the country.

Silver Song, who won the Classic last year, will be back to defend his crown, already having posted the fastest trotting mark of the current meeting when he won ghe recent Long Beach Trot in 1:58.2.

Scheduled to face Silver Song are Elaine Rodney, the top 3-year-old trotter in the nation last year; Merrie Duke and Air Record, who were second and third, respectively, in the Long Beach Trot; Darn Safe, the 10-year-old veteran who has been in every Classic since its inauguration in 1955; and the top 3-year-old trotters in the country — Duke Rodney, Harlan Dean, and Caleb.

Duke Rodney won two-thirds of the trotting triple crown this year by taking the Yonkers and Kentucky Futurities. Harlan Dean won the other leg by garnering the Hambletonian. Caleb was second in all three races of the triple crown.

Ray Berry, offensive end of the Baltimore Colts, and Jim Welch, defensive halfback, both attended SMU.

Adios Butler To Conclude His Campaign on West Coast

INGLEWOD, Calif. — World Champion Pacer Adios Butler's final appearance here Saturday will highlight the fifth week of Western Harness Racing Assn. action at nearby Hollywood Park.

Soon after Saturday's test, Adios Butler will be flown to the East Coast for a $50,000 race Nov. 11 at Roosevelt Raceway in New York.

That will be the finale of the Butler's racing career.

He then is scheduled to be retired to stud on a farm near Washington C.H., Ohio.

The 5-year-old son of Adios, who already holds the world record at a mile with a 1:54.3 clocking, Saturday will gun for the mile-and-one-eighth record of 2:15 set in 1953 by Dudley Hanover and later tied by Dottie's Pick in 1958. Both marks by Dudley Hanover and Dottie's Pick were established at Hollywood Park.

As was the case in the first two legs of the Classic, there will be no parimutuel wagering on Adios Butler, although the latter will be eligible for the first place purse if he wins the race. In the event of a Butler victory, the second place horse will move up to first as far as wagering is concerned, with the third and fourth place horses also moving up a notch for betting purposes.

Scheduled to contest Adios Butler in the final leg are Caduceus, the 11-year-old New Zealand champ; Dancer Hanover, Right Time, Stephan Smith, Newport Admiral, Mr. Budlong, and Vicki's Jet.

Also on tap Saturday will be the first leg of the $80,000 American Trotting Classic, which will be contested at a mile and will bring out the top trotters in the country.

Silver Song, who won the Classic last year, will be back to defend his crown, already having posted the fastest trotting mark of the current meeting when he won ghe recent Long Beach Trot in 1:58.2.

Scheduled to face Silver Song are Elaine Rodney, the top 3-year-old trotter in the nation last year; Merrie Duke and Air Record, who were second and third, respectively, in the Long Beach Trot; Darn Safe, the 10-year-old veteran who has been in every Classic since its inauguration in 1955; and the top 3-year-old trotters in the country — Duke Rodney, Harlan Dean, and Caleb.

Duke Rodney won two-thirds of the trotting triple crown this year by taking the Yonkers and Kentucky Futurities. Harlan Dean won the other leg by garnering the Hambletonian. Caleb was second in all three races of the triple crown.

Ray Berry, offensive end of the Baltimore Colts, and Jim Welch, defensive halfback, both attended SMU.

Midwest Swami Picks Bucks To Defeat Hawkeyes by 18-13

BY JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The Halloween goblins got an early start on the midwest football swami, spooking him for a wobbly .500 performance last weekend.

Oh well, when the frost is on the pumpkin, that's the time for pigskin upsets. The season record is 25-91 for a .735 average.

Here are some more haunting guesses:

Michigan State 14, Minnesota 7—Despite Michigan State's George Saimes and Minnesota's Sandy Stephens, this figures to be a whale of a defensive battle. The winner could be Big Ten champion, although the Gophers have a tougher stretch run, facing Iowa, Purdue and Wisconsin. Michigan State's final three foes are Purdue, Northwestern and Illinois.

Ohio State 18, Iowa 13—On dry or wet field, Ohio State's Buckeyes figure to outlast the visiting Hawkeyes. Ohio State was vulnerable to Wisconsin passes, but the Buckeyes' ball control still prevailed. Woody Hayes isn't forgetting that 35-12 spanking by Iowa last year.

Purdue 20, Illinois 12—The Illini scored a moral victory at Southern California, but their sixth successive loss seems inevitable Saturday.

Northwestern 18, Indiana 7 — The Wildcats' upending of Notre Dame could make them a real spoiler the rest of the Big Ten campaign. Confidence was the main thing Ara Parseghian's young purple crew needed and they got a lot of it at South Bend, Ind.

Michigan 18, Duke 3 — The Wolverines seem to do well outside the Big Ten. Duke's Blue Devils are tough enough, but not big enough.

Notre Dame 19, Navy 14—Aerial errors faulted the Irish against Michigan State and Northwestern. However, Notre Dame's ground attack may be just enough to scuttle the Middies.

Motorists Advised About 'Troubles'

DECATUR, Ala. (AP) — After Interstate 65 was opened through north Alabama last year, the highway was dotted with cars pulled up on the shoulder, drivers peering under the hoods.

Service stations along the route were busy with motorists seeking a mechanical checkup.

But that noise drivers feared was motor trouble was merely their tires singing. The singing is caused by tiny ridges in the concrete to help make the highway skid-resistant.

Now the department has placed signs along the route advising travelers the cause of the noise.

NEW YORK (AP) — The 20th Century problem of automation, now spreading inexorably into wider job areas with the development of sophisticated machines and computers, was explored effectively and dirbingly by television Tuesday night.

The program was ABC's excellent "Close-Up." It focused on the efficient machines tirelessly baking pies, sorting lemons, packing pills, even skinning slaughtered animals. And then, with sympathy, it moved to the men thrown out of work and often onto welfare rolls by improved manufacturing techniques.

As one U.S. senator summed up the automation situation: We are producing workers faster than jobs; products faster than product consumers; more work but more unemployment. The solution: none really, for the poorly educated and unskilled, but job retraining for skilled and semi-skilled. And for the younger generation, advice to stay in school and learn as much as possible.

Recommended tonight: "Perry Como Show," NBC, 9-10 (EST)—Shirley Booth is guest star; Steel Hour, CBS 10-11 —Jane Wyatt and Hans Conrad in comedy, "Little Lost Sheep."

Knicks Add Cincinnati to Victim List

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Knickerbockers, who won only 21 of 79 games last season, made it four victories in six sarts Tuesday night, beating the Cincinnati Royals 131-127 on a fourth-quarter binge sparked by Willie Naulls.

In the second game of the doubleheader at St. Louis, he St. Louis Hawks continued in their tailspin—taking a 107-90 drubbing from the Syracuse Nationals. This from a club that has lost only back courtman Lenny Wilkens from a veteran squad that rolled to its fifth straight Western Division title last season.

The Knicks made up a four-point deficit in the last period. Naulls scored 37 points, 12 in the fourth quarter, when New York poured in 34 points.

The Hawks trailed throughout in the nightcap of the only other NBA activity and finally fell apart, scoring but 16 points in the last period. Hal Greer's jump shooting—he hit 8-for-8 and scored 18 points in the third quarter alone—did the big job for Syracuse.

Midwest Swami Picks Bucks To Defeat Hawkeyes by 18-13

BY JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The Halloween goblins got an early start on the midwest football swami, spooking him for a wobbly .500 performance last weekend.

Oh well, when the frost is on the pumpkin, that's the time for pigskin upsets. The season record is 25-91 for a .735 average.

Here are some more haunting guesses:

Michigan State 14, Minnesota 7 —Despite Michigan State's George Saimes and Minnesota's Sandy Stephens, this figures to be a whale of a defensive battle. The winner could be Big Ten champion, although the Gophers have a tougher stretch run, facing Iowa, Purdue and Wisconsin. Michigan State's final three foes are Purdue, Northwestern and Illinois.

Ohio State 18, Iowa 13—On dry or wet field, Ohio State's Buckeyes figure to outlast the visiting Hawkeyes. Ohio State was vulnerable to Wisconsin passes, but the Buckeyes' ball control still prevailed. Woody Hayes isn't forgetting that 35-12 spanking by Iowa last year.

Purdue 20, Illinois 12—The Illini scored a moral victory at Southern California, but their sixth successive loss seems inevitable Saturday.

Northwestern 18, Indiana 7 — The Wildcats' upending of Notre Dame could make them a real spoiler the rest of the Big Ten campaign. Confidence was the main thing Ara Parseghian's young purple crew needed and they got a lot of it at South Bend, Ind.

Michigan 18, Duke 3 — The Wolverines seem to do well outside the Big Ten. Duke's Blue Devils are tough enough, but not big enough.

Notre Dame 19, Navy 14—Aerial errors faulted the Irish against Michigan State and Northwestern. However, Notre Dame's ground attack may be just enough to scuttle the Middies.

Motorists Advised About 'Troubles'

DECATUR, Ala. (AP) — After Interstate 65 was opened through north Alabama last year, the highway was dotted with cars pulled up on the shoulder, drivers peering under the hoods.

Service stations along the route were busy with motorists seeking a mechanical checkup.

But that noise drivers feared was motor trouble was merely their tires singing. The singing is caused by tiny ridges in the concrete to help make the highway skid-resistant.

Now the department has placed signs along the route advising travelers the cause of the noise.

NEW YORK (AP) — The 20th Century problem of automation, now spreading inexorably into wider job areas with the development of sophisticated machines and computers, was explored effectively and dirbingly by television Tuesday night.

The program was ABC's excellent "Close-Up." It focused on the efficient machines tirelessly baking pies, sorting lemons, packing pills, even skinning slaughtered animals. And then, with sympathy, it moved to the men thrown out of work and often onto welfare rolls by improved manufacturing techniques.

As one U.S. senator summed up the automation situation: We are producing workers faster than jobs; products faster than product consumers; more work but more unemployment. The solution: none really, for the poorly educated and unskilled, but job retraining for skilled and semi-skilled. And for the younger generation, advice to stay in school and learn as much as possible.

Knicks Add Cincinnati to Victim List

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Knickerbockers, who won only 21 of 79 games last season, made it four victories in six sarts Tuesday night, beating the Cincinnati Royals 131-127 on a fourth-quarter binge sparked by Willie Naulls.

In the second game of the doubleheader at St. Louis, he St. Louis Hawks continued in their tailspin—taking a 107-90 drubbing from the Syracuse Nationals. This from a club that has lost only back courtman Lenny Wilkens from a veteran squad that rolled to its fifth straight Western Division title last season.

The Knicks made up a four-point deficit in the last period. Naulls scored 37 points, 12 in the fourth quarter, when New York poured in 34 points.

The Hawks trailed throughout in the nightcap of the only other NBA activity and finally fell apart, scoring but 16 points in the last period. Hal Greer's jump shooting—he hit 8-for-8 and scored 18 points in the third quarter alone—did the big job for Syracuse.

Congressmen Oppose Ohio Amendment

Proposal To Appoint State Senators Hit By Both GOP, Dems

WASHINGTON (AP)—An undercurrent of opposition exists among Ohio's congressmen of both parties to a proposed state constitutional amendment permitting state senators to make appointments to fill vacancies in their own ranks.

Members of Congress cite the usual objection to substituting appointments for elections, but there's a much more basic political reason for their opposition.

As one Republican congressman explained it, some feel if the amendment is approved in the Nov. 7 statewide election it would amount to a blanket invitation for any state senator to run for congress without jeopardizing his legislative seat.

The congressman, declining to be quoted by name, explained it this way:

Since state Senate terms recently were raised from two to four years, a senator could make an off-year campaign for a two-year term in Congress without giving up his Senate seat and without being subject to criticism for making an expensive special election necessary in case he won.

If he won, his vacant senate seat would simply be filled by senators of the party to which he belonged, under the proposed amendment.

If he lost, he would have risked nothing and would still have his legislative seat, opponents argue.

This theory is also recognized by some state election officials, one of whom wrote a congressman pointing it out.

The GOP congressmen said, "You just can't put that much power in the hands of those affected." A Democrat agreed, saying the amendment would undermine the elective process.

One congressman said Ohio's Washington delegation — Republicans and Democrats—"have never before been so united as they are against this thing."

Congressional sources also say the proposal would lead to extreme political pressure on prospective appointees for vacant Senate seats.

For instance, one said, if a vacancy occurred at the time of a close Senate battle on a controversial bill, party leaders considering an appointment to fill the vacancy "are going to have interviews" to make sure the appointee will vote with them.

And, opponents say, "The voters would have nothing to say about a caucus in which they pick a buddy."

The proposed amendment, No. 1 on the ballot, would provide that in case of a Senate vacancy caused by "death, resignation or otherwise, the remaining members of the Senate who are of the same political party as the person last elected to the vacated seat shall choose a successor to fill such vacancy."

Supporters of the amendment argue that it would serve to eliminate the expense of special elections, but congressional opponents say this would be a strong point in favor of state senators running for Congress in mid-term.

They wouldn't have to face the "valid criticism" that they would cost the taxpayers an extra election if they won, said the GOP congressman.

All the cosmic rays bombarding the earth in a year would weigh only an ounce or two. Only their energy makes them important.

Retiring Schoolman Convinced 'Job' of Retirement Difficult

By RON COFFMAN

George E. Armstrong retired yesterday after 33 years as superintendent of Centralia schools in Ross County. And he found the job of getting out of office "a lot tougher than getting in."

Armstrong, who identifies himself with a chuckle as "In my sixties," began his exodus at 3 a. m. yesterday, an hour when less-dedicated retirees prefer a warm bed to a cold school house.

The veteran educator moved a small mountain of textbooks and personal belongings — the accumulation of almost 40 years in public school work in Ohio — out of his office.

In order to "leave things in proper shape for my successor," Armstrong, who began his career at Pickaway Twp. School in Pickaway County in 1925, labored most of the day over reports and letters his secretary had placed on his desk. A telephone call to the school at 4 p. m. Tuesday found Armstrong still in his office, "just cleaning up a few odds and ends."

* * *

ARMSTRONG was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan, Delaware, and completed graduate work at Ohio State University. After a year at Pickaway Twp. he was named principal at Saltcreek Twp. School in Pickaway County. He became superintendent at Centralia in 1928, a post he has held ever since.

Arthur Hinton, Centralia High School principal, has been appointed temporary superintendent until a permanent school head can be employed.

When Armstrong finally left his office late yesterday, it was with a firm conviction to "take a vacation from this job of retiring." Banking interests in Adelphi, his home town, will probably insure that Armstrong never gets around to fully retiring. He is just as happy about that, though. Retirement is just too much hard work, he commented.

Closed-End Status Given Hanna Firm

CLEVELAND (AP) — Stockholders of the M.A. Hanna Co. have voted to make the firm the second largest closed-end investment company in the country, with assets of more than $500 million.

Under a plan approved overwhelmingly by shareholders Tuesday, a new class of common stock has been established and 14 million shares authorized. It is to be exchanged on a 4-for-1 basis for the existing 2,057,374 Class A and 1,030,066 Class B shares.

Hanna Co. directors also declared a dividend of 25 cents per share on its new stock payable Dec. 23 to shareholders of record Dec. 18. This makes the total paid this year $1 per share, on the basis of the new shares, compared with 75 cents a year ago.

Directors also elected Gilbert W. Humphrey chairman, Joseph W. Thompson chairman of the executive committee, and William A. Hobbs president.

A closed-end company differs from an open-end company, or mutual fund, in that it sells its own shares to investors, is ready to buy them back at any time and has no fixed capitalization.

Ashville VFW Post Sponsors Party

The Ashville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5067 entertained children of the Pickaway County Home with a Halloween party and dance.

Ouster Case Verdict Still Weeks Away

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — Special Commissioner John L. Davis says it will be several weeks before he makes any recommendations in the Campbell County ouster case.

Davis was here Tuesday to listen to defense and character witnesses for Sheriff Norbert Roll. Roll and Harry Stuart, county police chief, face ouster proceedings on neglect of duty charges.

Davis said state and defense attorneys will receive transcripts of Tuesday's testimony in about a week. The attorneys will then have two weeks to submit briefs. Davis said he will present his findings to Gov. Bert Combs soon after that.

Chief defense witness Tuesday was Deputy Sheriff Stanley Kemmerling, who testified he had never seen any gambling in the county. The deputy said he knew little about gambling devices except what he had seen on television.

Members of the Newport Ministerial Association filed affidavits last March, charging Roll and other officials were neglecting their duty in permitting open gambling and vice in this Northern Kentucky area across the Ohio River from Cincinnati.

Nineteen persons testified on Roll's behalf. Most said they had no personal knowledge of gambling and law violations in this area, though they had read about this in newspapers.

No witnesses appeared for Stuart. Stuart's attorney said he considers his client's case closed with the filing of a motion to dismiss charges.

Closed-End Status Given Hanna Firm

CLEVELAND (AP) — Stockholders of the M.A. Hanna Co. have voted to make the firm the second largest closed-end investment company in the country, with assets of more than $500 million.

Under a plan approved overwhelmingly by shareholders Tuesday, a new class of common stock has been established and 14 million shares authorized. It is to be exchanged on a 4-for-1 basis for the existing 2,057,374 Class A and 1,030,066 Class B shares.

Hanna Co. directors also declared a dividend of 25 cents per share on its new stock payable Dec. 23 to shareholders of record Dec. 18. This makes the total paid this year $1 per share, on the basis of the new shares, compared with 75 cents a year ago.

Directors also elected Gilbert W. Humphrey chairman, Joseph W. Thompson chairman of the executive committee, and William A. Hobbs president.

A closed-end company differs from an open-end company, or mutual fund, in that it sells its own shares to investors, is ready to buy them back at any time and has no fixed capitalization.

George Skaggs of the Circleville Lamp plant has received an award of $1,345 for an improvement idea adopted under General Electric's Suggestion Plan.

The award was presented to Skaggs by Wayne Koonce, his foreman. The suggestion involved an improved method of sealing power groove fluorescent lamps.

The award was the highest paid to date at the local plant and the highest in GE's large lamp department.

Ouster Case Verdict Still Weeks Away

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — Special Commissioner John L. Davis says it will be several weeks before he makes any recommendations in the Campbell County ouster case.

Davis was here Tuesday to listen to defense and character witnesses for Sheriff Norbert Roll. Roll and Harry Stuart, county police chief, face ouster proceedings on neglect of duty charges.

Davis said state and defense attorneys will receive transcripts of Tuesday's testimony in about a week. The attorneys will then have two weeks to submit briefs. Davis said he will present his findings to Gov. Bert Combs soon after that.

Chief defense witness Tuesday was Deputy Sheriff Stanley Kemmerling, who testified he had never seen any gambling in the county. The deputy said he knew little about gambling devices except what he had seen on television.

Members of the Newport Ministerial Association filed affidavits last March, charging Roll and other officials were neglecting their duty in permitting open gambling and vice in this Northern Kentucky area across the Ohio River from Cincinnati.

Nineteen persons testified on Roll's behalf. Most said they had no personal knowledge of gambling and law violations in this area, though they had read about this in newspapers.

No witnesses appeared for Stuart. Stuart's attorney said he considers his client's case closed with the filing of a motion to dismiss charges.
